LOYALISTS.

John Adams estimated that one-third of all the people in the Colonies in 1776 were Loyalists, that is, opposed to the war with England. A minority of these favored obedience to the English laws, but the great majority opposed the English methods with the Colonies, but wanted a peaceable settlement. War drove the Loyalists to armed resistance and in N. Y. State alone more than 20,000 Loyalists took up arms for the British. Out of a total population of less than 4,000,000, more than 80,000 Loyalists left the Colonies during the Revolutionary period because of their political position.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

The Rhodes Scholarships at Oxford Univ., England, were established under the will of Cecil Rhodes. Scholarships are allotted as follows: 100 to the U. S. (2 to each state and territory), 15 to Germany and from 3 to 9 each to the several British Colonies. In the U. S. candidates must have completed in a satisfactory manner at least 2 years' work in a college of liberal arts and sciences. The limits of age are 19 and 25. (See page 243, 1916 Eagle Almanac for further particulars.)

Scholars are chosen from the U. S. annually from two-thirds of the states. The 16 states to be omitted in 1917 are: California, Washington, Oregon, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri, Iowa, Georgia, Texas, Alabama, Arkansas and Mississippi.

Scholars from these states will be selected in 1918 and another 16 states will be omitted.

The number of scholars in residence at Oxford in the course of the academic year 1914-15 was, Americans, 87; Colonials, 35.

Among the Oxford distinctions gained by scholars during the year (1914-15) were the Baccalaureate C. M. Carruthers (Ont., 1913). Boden Baccalaureate Scholarship; W. C. Davison (N. Y.,

THE GARY SYSTEM, AND CONTINUATION AND CO-OPERATIVE CLASSES.

The experiment with the Gary system of instruction, i. e., the double use of 1 school bldg. by 2 different organizations, utilizing playgrounds, assembly rooms, outside libraries, etc., together with shops for prevocational trg., is being continued and extended. In addition to P. S. 45, The Bronx, and P. S. 89, Bkin., the plan has been inaugurated in P. S. 2, 5, 6, 28, 30, 42, 44, 45, 50, 53, 54 and 55, The Bronx. Furthermore, structural changes are being made in approximately 50 schools in Mh'tn. and Bkin. for introduction of the plan therein. Mr. Wm. Wirt of Gary, Ind., has been retained for 1917 as consulting expert to Bd. of Est. and Apportionment. The plan is advocated by many as solution of part time problem, affording as it does addl. school accommodations for many thousands without the erection of new school bldgs., and at same time affording also a more flexible and enriched curriculum and a more extensive preliminary trg. in vocational work. It has been asserted that N. Y. C. is no longer in a position to provide a separate seat for each pupil. Whether or not the Gary system or the double session school is to replace the old-type single session school has not been determined.

DEATH OF SETH LOW.

4 scholars completed period of scholarships. A number of Amer. scholars were granted leave of absence for varying periods to assist in war work of Red Cross Soc. and the Y. M. C. A., or for work in Belgium and Serbia. Some of the Colonials who came into residence left in course of year to take up military service. Practically all the Colonial scholars elected for 1916 are serving, and they will take up residence after the war.

NEW YORK STATE HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT.

The N. Y. State Dept. of Highways was established in 1909 and there was placed under its control and supervision the improvement, maintenance and repair of all public highways of the State.

There are about 80,000 miles of public highways, of which by statute about 3,617 miles are designated as State routes to be improved at sole expense of State; about 8,310 miles of county highways, which are to be improved at joint expense of State, counties and towns, leaving about 68,000 miles of town highways which are to be improved and maintained by local town authorities, assisted by county super. and under supervision and direction of dept., at the joint expense of towns and State.

The two great problems with which the dept. has to contend are: 1st, the selection of a suitable type of construction, and 2d, the maintenance of the improved roads.

Up to Jan. 1, 1916, 5,961 miles of State and county highways had been completed; 4,027 miles of town roads macadamised, 5,885 miles of town roads improved as gravel highways, approximately 70,000 miles of town roads widened, shaped, crowned and made safe for travel.

The cost of improvement of State roads and State's share of cost of improvement of county highways built, have been paid from the two $50,000,000 bond issues authorized by Legislature and voted upon by the people in 1905 and 1912. Of the second $50,000,000, $30,000,000 was made available for State highways and $20,000,000 for county highways. The cost of improvement and maintenance of town roads is paid from money raised by tax in each town together with money appropriated by the State as provided by statute for aid of towns (See also Highway Dept.).

COMPENSATION LAWS IN STATES.

Thirty-one States and 2 Territories have workmen's compensation laws, and a Federal statute covers about 4th of civilian employees of the U. S. This legislation has been enacted since 1908 and virtually all of the existing legislation was passed in 1910. According to a bulletin issued by the Dept. of Labor, 3 States and 2 Territories passed compensation laws during 1914. 3 States passed similar laws in 1914.

ELEPHANT BUTTE DAM.

The Elephant Butte Dam, a U. S. service project, which, by damming the Rio Grande River, forms the greatest storage reservoir in the world, was completed in May, 1916. The project began in 1911. The reservoir, which is a system watering 125,000 acres in New Mexico, Texas and Mexico.

SCHOOL ATHLETICS INCREASE.

More than 350,000 boys and girls took part in public school athletics in 1915, according to the annual report of the P. S. A. L., made public in Mar., 1916. The increase is the result of the appropriation of $55,000 made by the Board of Estimate, which enabled the opening of 172 school playgrounds. They were attended by 1,500,000 children at a cost of 1½ cts. each.

Another feature of the report showed that more than 6,000 P. S. A. L. badges were awarded during the year to boys who attained a standard in running and jumping. P. S. No. 90 of Queens had the most winners, 342. They represented 80% of the attendance. Swimming also came in for a big increase.

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA.

The organization of boys in the United States known as the Boy Scouts of America was incorporated February 10, 1910. It has as its Honorary President, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, and ex-Pres. W. H. Taft and Col. Theodore Roosevelt, as its Honorary Vice-Presidents. There is a National Council, comprising eminent citizens from all walks of public life, and also local councils.

The Scouts are organized in patrols and troops. Eight boys constitute a patrol, one of whom is selected as the patrol leader. Three patrols make a troop. The Scout Master is the adult leader of the troop. There are about 400 Local Councils in as many cities of the United States. Over 10,000 Scout Masters and over 10,000 Assistant Sc. Masters devote from 1 to 15 hours each week to the Boy Scouts. Work has been started in every city and territory having a pop. over 4,000 in this country, besides the Hawaiian Islands, the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico and Guam. Any boy over 12 years of age of any race or creed is eligible to become a Scout. The requirements are that he know the Scout salute, sign, and laws, and that he take the Scout oath. Scoutcraft includes instruction in First Aid, Life Saving, Tracking, Signalling, Cycling, Nature Study, Seamanship, Campcraft, Woodcraft, Chivalry, etc.

Early in 1911 this organization formed a Local Council for Brooklyn and Queens. Present local officers are: Woodruff Leeming, Pres.; F. C. Bates, Sec.; B. S. Litchfield, Treas.; Willis B. Holcombe, Scout Executive; B. M. Langstaff, Commr. Office, 261 Montague. There are in Bkin. 226 Scout Masters and Assistant Scout Masters. The number of registered Scouts under the jurisdiction of the Bkin. office is about 2,620.

A REVIEW OF ELECTRICAL PROGRESS IN 1916.

(Prepared by Robert A. Jones of Engineering Department, Society for Electrical Development, Inc.)

The electrical industry is playing a most important part in the entire economic development of the country. Electrical progress is best shown by advancement made in prime movers for driving generators. The 1st central station contained 1 generator driven by a 70 H. P. engine. Development along this line reached its climax in the installation of the generators driven by large reciprocating engines of 5,200 H. P., which were installed by the N. Y. Edison Co. about 1900. Since then there has been a rapid development of the steam turbine.

A steam turbo generator of 60,000 H. P. rating with single turbine connected to single generator is being built for the Detroit Edison Co. This is the largest single turbine and generator. Greater sizes are being built in multistage units.

Notable progress was made in electric refining of steel during 1916. The price of high grade tool steel has increased over 700% since the beginning of the world war. In 1910 there were 10 electric furnaces in the U. S. and 104 elsewhere in the world. In 1913 there were 19 in the U. S., against 131 elsewhere. In Jan., 1915, there were 41 against 172 elsewhere. On Jan. 1, 1916, there were 73 against 230 elsewhere, while in Nov., 1916, there were no less than 100 in the U. S. against 250 elsewhere.

$2,000,000 worth of electric ranges were sold in 1916. 3,335 communities in which the electric rates for heating and cooking are 5c. or less and of this number 70% are of 4c. or less and 32% of 3c. or less. These communities are not all confined to the far West, since there are 1,638 east of the Mississippi River and 1,566 west.

The world war has stimulated the improvement of surgical instruments and electricity is being adapted to many new surgical uses, notably the development of an electrical probe.

A new type of nitrogen filled lamp has been placed on the market. The light from this type of bulb is especially suitable for matching colors, since it very closely approximates daylight. The method of lighting large areas by projecting the light from lighting units placed at a distance from the area to be illuminated and which was first introduced at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, has been successfully adopted for many purposes.

Of the 110,000,000 incandescent lamps sold in 1916 over 80% were Mazda. The average candle power of these lamps in 1907 was 18, in 1914 it was 38.2, in 1915 it was 42.23, but during the same years the power consumption of these lamps decreased from an average of 53 in 1907 to 47.36 in 1915, showing the average candle power of the lamps is now 255% of that 10 years ago, the power consumption of these lamps is only 89% of that of 10 years ago.

The range of wireless communication has constantly increased. Among some of the wireless feats may be enumerated: the reception of messages sent out from the station at Tuckerton, N. J., which uses a 60 kw. Federal Poulsen arc set, by the S. S. "Ventura" when 3,000 miles S. W. of Samoa, or at a distance of 8,000 miles from Tuckerton; the maintenance of constant communication between the "Sierra" of the Ocean S. S. Co., and San Francisco, over a distance of more than 4,870 miles. The "Sierra" is equipped with a 5 kw. Federal Poulsen arc set.

An interesting development in the field of wireless has been the transmission of music by wireless telephones.

A remarkable instance of the growth of wire telephony was shown at a meeting of the Amer. Inst. of Electrical Engrs. This was held by members in Atlanta, San Francisco, Boston, Phila., Chicago and N. Y. Each member in each of these cities was provided with a telephone receiver and could hear addresses by members in other cities. The roll was called with 500 present at Atlanta, 700 present at San Francisco, 900 at Chicago, 550 at Phila., 1,000 at Chicago and 1,100 at N. Y. Members at Denver and Salt Lake City listened to the meeting.

The U. S. Navy is using electric drive on the 2 latest battleships, the "California" and the "Tennessee." The generating plant of each of these battleships consists of 2 generators direct connected to steam turbines each of approximately 20,000 H. P.

440 miles of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. has been electrified. The electrification now in operation is the longest that has been made.

The U. S. is almost entirely dependent on the great natural deposits of nitrate in Chile for a supply of nitrates. These salts are very important in peace as fertilizers and are necessary in the manufacture of high explosives. Nitrates can be manufactured by an electric process from the nitrogen of the atmosphere. Congress appropriated $20,000,000 for constructing a hydro-electric plant for the manufacture of nitrates from the air.

The most powerful searchlight in the world is to be found on the roof of the Sperry Bldg. in Bklyn. The beam from this searchlight has been seen by vessels 60 miles away. The superiority of this searchlight is due to the development of the carbon electrodes so that the arc crater which is the source of light is as brilliant and as small as can be produced.

The peculiar properties of the gyroscope are being taken advantage of in the development of stabilizers for ships and aeroplanes.

An instrument has been developed to prevent aeroplanes from falling backward due to a decrease in the relative velocity between the air and the aeroplane. It is this relative velocity which maintains the aeroplane in the air.

A new adoption of electricity to manufacturing purposes is in the magnet chuck. This chuck will hold the pieces of steel or iron by an electro-magnet while they are being machined.

Electrically operated floating dredges have been generally used in the Klondike to recover gold from the frozen gravel of the creek beds. Electricity is fast replacing steam drive in the Klondike as the high cost of fuel makes the cost of steam prohibitive.

RELIGIOUS REVIEW.

In spite of the continuation of the world war, religion made steady progress in the U. S. and throughout the world in 1916.

The yr. 1917 opened with the hopes of religious leaders fixed on still greater fruition for their work. (See Index for statistics of religious denominations.)

Contributions for missions by various denominations have been quite as large as in 1916, when the amt. was notably large. The Episcopal Genl. Convention for 1916 at St. Louis gave prominence to a discussion on marriage and divorce. The canon remains the same—that the innocent party may be married by any clergyman. The convention of the N. Y. Diocese of the P. E. Church indorsed total abstinence for the individual and local option in N. Y. State. The Methodists passed the amount which they hoped to raise by $200,000. The chief question agitating the church is the union of Methodism, North and South. Roman Catholics were successful in obtaining abundant funds and they intend to erect a headquarters of the K. of C. in N. Y. City.

Benevolences to war sufferers, to Christian nuns, the Salvation Army and other agencies have been very large. The Jews raised funds for those of their race in war stricken lands.

The literary output of the religious organizations has been markedly large. The printing of Bibles was the largest in the history of the world. Amer. publishers, in part because of the war, have even been selling copies of Scriptures in foreign countries.

The output of books written by clergymen and laymen on all phases of religious thought has been unusually large. There has also been a notable increase in the production of religious musical works.

ARCTIC AND ANTARCTIC EXPLORATION.

(Prepared for Eagle Almanac

by Natl. Geographic Society.)

The work of the expedition led by Dr. W. S. Bruce to Spitzbergen in the summer of 1915 was curtailed by abnormal ice conditions and difficulties arising out of the war.

On July 29, 1916, Capt. French, nephew of Sir John French, and 6 officers of the Northwest Mounted Police sailed from Montreal to the Arctic to arrest the Eskimo murderers of Harry V. Radford, an American explorer, and George T. Street, of Ottawa, who were killed at Bathurst, Canada, in 1912, by mutinous guides.

The project of working the coal deposits on Bell Sound and Isfjord, Spitzbergen, was undertaken by a Swedish expedition under Birger Johnson. Several plants were taken along to acclimatize if possible.

Capt. Roald Amundsen is carrying out the plans for a North Polar expedition which was deferred on account of the outbreak of the war. The Storting voted $12,000 for the undertaking in 1914. His program was to leave Point Barrow and drive with the ice over the Polar basin.

Although the relief ship "Cuet" was disabled at North Star Bay, Dr. E. O. Hovey, leader of the expedition that went to the relief of Donald Macmillan, succeeded in reaching the original party at Etah. The Crocker Land Commission sent the steamer "Danmark" to bring back the members of both expeditions. The most important records were brought from Etah by Dr. Hovey.

The Vilhjalmur Stefansson expedition spent the winter of 1915-16 exploring the new land which was discovered north of Prince Patrick Island. During the summer of 1916 the plan was to penetrate further into the region between Alaska and the North Pole where no ship has gone before. On July 25, 1916, Capt. L. I. Lane and John Borden of Chicago left Banks Land to join Stefansson, who was to return in the autumn. The Naval Service Dept. at Ottawa received records left by Sir Francis Leopold on Prince Patrick Island in 1853 and found by Stefansson.

The southern party of the Stefansson expedition reached Nome, Alaska, on Aug. 15, 1916. Detail surveys on the Arctic mainland coast of Canada from Cape Parry to Bathurst Inlet were completed and 150 islands were mapped in Bathurst Inlet, where 3 were previously indicated. A large collection of birds, mammals and photographs were obtained.

Knud Rasmussen left Copenhagen in April, 1916, with plans to explore the region between Peary Land and Greenland. Failing to reach that he was to devote the season to systematic exploration of the shores of Melville Bay. Investigation in marine zoology in waters of the bay and a study of the Eskimo migrations on the west coast.

Sir Ernest Shackleton's expedition was heard from on May 21, 1916. A party of 6 succeeded in reaching South Georgia, crossed that island for the 1st time, and had relief sent to the rest of the party in an ice cave on Elephant Island. The "Endurance" was crushed by ice in the Weddell Sea late in Oct., 1915. 200 miles of new coast line was discovered during the drift of the vessel. At the longitude assigned to New South Greenland, the "Endurance" made soundings which gave 1,900 fathoms, proving an error in location, or non-existence of this land. After 3 unsuccessful attempts to rescue members of the expedition left at Elephant Island, they were reached by the "Tellico," a Chilean government steamer, on Aug. 20, 1916. Sir James Caird, a backer of the expedition, for whom the newly discovered land was named the Caird Coast, died at Dundee in March, 1916.

Early in 1916 the "Aurora," the auxiliary vessel of the Shackleton expedition, reached New Zealand, after drifting for 10 months in an ice pack. The "Aurora" was to establish a base at Ross Sea, but was driven from her moorings by a blizzard and left 10 men marooned at Cape Evans. The rescue of these was undertaken immediately.

ILLITERATE IMMIGRANTS.

Best educated immigrants come to the U. S. from the countries of northwestern Europe, according to the evidence of a comprehensive survey of the immigration into the U. S. completed by Dr. Winthrop Talbot as the basis for a bulletin for the Federal Census Bureau. Another of the facts revealed by his study is that China is one of the 11 countries whose addition population of the U. S. since 1899 have noticeably low percentage of illiteracy, 2,353 out of 25,221, or 8.04 per cent., being unable to read or write. Scandinavians had the lowest percentage, 0.6 or 4,113 out of 669,784.

The nations of northwestern Europe have less than 10 per cent. of illiteracy and have sent to the U. S. illiterate immigrants as follows: French, 7.0; German, 5.3; Dutch, 4.6; Irish, 3.5; Welsh, 1.3; Finnish, 1.1; Bohemian, 1.6; English, 1.1; Scotch, 0.7; Scandinavians, 0.6.

MOTOR VEHICLES IN N. Y. STATE.

The tremendous growth in the use of motor vehicles in N. Y. State is demonstrated by the registration and license figures together with the total receipts since 1901. In the early years, however, annual registration was unnecessary, so that the figures up to 1910 do not show the total number of machines in operation, only those registered in each year. In 1910, there was a re-registration of all machines. Official figures for registration of cars, licensing of chauffeurs, with total receipts are:

WAR'S EFFECT ON WORLD'S TRADE.

The figures below show trade conditions in foreign countries from the outbreak of the world war to end of calendar year, 1915. Imports of mdse. were affected as follows in the countries named:

Canada—Decreased from $659,065,000 in 1913 to $450,548,000 in 1915. United Kingdom—Increased from $3,741,047,007 in 1913 to $4,154,804,933 in 1915. France—Decreased from $1,625,317,078 in 1913 to $1,588,376,956 in 1915. Available figures for Germany do not give any basis of comparison; they end with June, 1914.

Austria-Hungary figures show imports of mdse. of $52,864,700 in Oct., 1913; $33,324,700 in Oct., 1914, and $37,737,700 in Oct., 1915. In the year ended Sept., 1915, there was a decrease of $148,208,879 from totals of year ended in Sept., 1914.

Italy—Decreased from $703,608,322 in 1913 to $643,971,900 in 1915.

Russia—Decreased from $628,534,000 in 1913 to $37,181,000 in 1915.

Figures of exports of mdse. from foreign countries show these changes:

Canada—Inc. from $436,219,000 in 1913 to $614,130,000 in 1915.

United Kingdom—Decreased from $2,556,106,199 in 1913 to $1,871,886,260 in 1915.

France—Decreased from $1,327,881,881 in 1913 to $583,304,286 in 1915.

Figures for Germany were not available beyond June, 1914.

Austria-Hungary—Decreased from $49,185,886 in Sept., 1913, to $13,783,700 in Sept., 1915. No figures are available after Sept., 1915.

Italy—Decreased from $484,746,236 in 1913 to $477,767,301 in 1915.

Russia—Decreased from $731,785,000 in 1913 to $161,652,000 in 1915.

Japan—Inc. from $314,965,186 in 1913 to $352,738,865 in 1915.

A comparison of exports of mdse. from U. S. with those from other countries show that the U. S. had a far greater increase than any other country since the beginning of the war.

The value of exports from the U. S. in each of the last 4 calendar years was greater than that of any other country, except in 1913, when it was slightly exceeded by value of exports from the United Kingdom. In the calendar year 1915 the value of exports from U. S. was nearly twice that of United Kingdom, which then ranked 3d.

GROWTH OF ELECTRICAL INDUSTRY.

Rate of the growth of public utilities appear in the following table and show, comparatively, the development of the electrical branch of the industry in the entire U. S. Figures for the year 1916 are necessarily approximate. Every 5 years the Bureau of the Census compiles a record, showing growth of the industry, and the 1916 figures are based upon the most recent of these records. In the following table are presented the Census figures for 1912 and the approximate advance made in the next 4 years. Figures are for U. S. alone, no account being taken of Alaska, Hawaii, Philippine Islands and Porto Rico, and includes no returns from factories, hotels, etc., which consume current from their own electric plants.

PANAMA CANAL TRAFFIC.

Two years of operation of the Panama Canal were completed at close of business on Aug. 14, 1916, the canal having been opened to commercial traffic on Aug. 15, 1914.

During the 2 years a total of 2,097 ships made the transit. Their aggregate net tonnage, according to rules for measurement of vessels for Panama Canal, was 7,046,407. Total quantity of cargo carried through canal by them was 9,031,613 tons of 2,240 lbs.

During the year from Aug. 15, 1915, to Aug. 14, 1916, the canal was closed approximately 1/4 the period, from middle of Sept. to middle of April. The 2d year had 59% as many ships as 1st, 53.3% as much net tonnage and 52.8% as much cargo.

There was a big falling off in the amt. of tolls collected during 2d year of canal's operation as compared with 1st. The aggregate amt. of tolls collected during the 2 years' operation of canal was $7,411,682.56, of which $5,102,063.97 was collected during 1914-1915 and $2,309,618.59 during 1916-1915.

UNITED STATES ARMY.

On Aug. 15, 1902, the system of military control in the Army was reorganized under the provisions of the General Staff Act, approved Feb. 14, 1903. This act abolished the separate office of General Commanding the Army, provided for a military Chief of Staff to the President, who, acting under the directions of the President, or of the Sec. of War representing him, should have supervision not only of all troops of the line, but of the special staff and supply departments which had theretofore reported directly to the Sec. of War; and it created for the assistance of the Chief of Staff a corps of officers, who were relieved from all other duties. The Natl. Defense Act, passed in June, 1916, increased the no. of officers composing this corps from 44 to 52. The function of this new corps is described by the statute in the following words:

Sec. 2. That the duties of the General Staff Corps shall be to prepare plans for the national defense and for the mobilization of the military forces in time of war; to investigate and report upon all questions affecting the efficiency of the Army and its state of preparation for military operations; to render professional aid and assistance to the Sec. of War and to general officers and other superior commanders, and to act as their agents in informing and coordinating the action of all the different officers who are subject, under the terms of this act, to the supervision of the Chief of Staff, and to perform such other military duties not otherwise assigned by law as may be from time to time prescribed by the President. (See also Dept. of War in U. S. Govt. Chap.)

S. on deposit of lawful money for their retirement (see acts of July 14, 1890 and Dec. 23, 1913), which, by law, is part of public debt of U. S. and is incl. in public debt statement. Prior to July 1, 1913, the amount of this fund was incl. as part of public debt and not as a liability in general fund. On July 1, 1913, the form of daily statement was changed and the retirement fund was removed from general fund balance and set up as a general fund liability. The act of July 14, 1890, provides, however, that this fund shall be incl. as part of public debt. The above statement restores it to the balance and makes it part of public debt as required by law.

Suffrage Legislation.

In 1917, the question is to be submitted to voters of Arkansas. In Tenn. and N. Y., the suffrage amendment has passed 1 legislature, and must pass again through legislature before it is submitted to voters.

When the Congress of the U. S. met on Dec. 6, 1916, the 1st measures introduced were proposed amendments to U. S. Constitution, abolishing sex as a qualification for voting. Representatives Mondell of Wyoming (Rep.), Raker of Calif. (Dem.) and London of N. Y. (Soc.) introduced identical amendments in House on Dec. 6; and on Dec. 7, Senator Sutherland of Utah (Rep.) introduced amendment for the Congressional Union, and was followed by Senator Thomas of Colorado (Dem.), who introduced the measure for the Natl. Amer. Woman Suffrage Assn. The 5 amendments were identical, being the Susan E. Anthony amendment. They were not voted on in either branch. To become law, this amendment must pass House and Senate by a two-thirds vote, and must then be ratified by legislatures of three-fourths of several States. If a State legislature votes "Yes," it cannot change its vote. If it votes "No," it may reconsider and thereafter vote "Yes."

This amendment was voted upon by 1914 Congress, receiving a majority of 1 in Senate, but not requisite two-thirds vote; the vote being, Senate 35 for, 34 against. House 174 for, 394 against.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

An epidemic of infantile paralysis (acute anterior poliomyelitis) broke out in the Italian quarter in Bkln. early in June, 1916, and spread during July to the other boroughs of N. Y. C., reaching such proportions that Federal aid was asked to check it. The disease increased with the warmer weather.

Extraordinary precautions were taken to protect children and to stay the spread of the epidemic. Sporadic cases were reported in 19 other States.

Measures to prevent further spread of infantile paralysis were discussed in Washington, D. C., Aug. 17, in a conference called by the Public Health Service under the authority of Congress for such councils in an epidemic of natl. danger. Delegates from nearly all States were present with detailed reports of the spread of the plague over the country.

The exact figures from 33 States showed 11,117 cases and not confined to cities. Many were reported on farms. A uniform, possibly a Federal, health certf. to facilitate travel of children was suggested. Practically all State officers reported rigid local quarantine regulations to check the spread of the disease in their own States. Following no. of cases in 1916 or since the outbreak of the epidemic to Aug. were reported:

Ala., 64; Ark., 3; Cal., 4; Col., 4; Conn., 323; Del., 2; D. C., 16; Fla., 6; Ill., 206; Ind., 27; Iowa, 25; Ky., 18; La., 51; Maine, 14; Md., 66; Mass., 105; Mich., 97; Minn., 318; Mo., 11; Mont., 15; Neb., 10; N. H., 7; N. J., 1,714; N. Y., 7,753 (6,753 in N. Y. C. and 1,000 ext. elsewhere); N. Car., 20; Ohio, 166; Oregon, 3; Penn., 326; Rhode Island, 53; S. Car., 55; S. Dak., 22; Tenn., 36; Texas, 30; Vt., 15; Va., 29; Wash., 5; W. Va., 8; Wis., 70.

The epidemic abated somewhat toward the end of Aug., nevertheless, as a measure of precaution, the date of the opening of the public schools in N. Y. C. and of certain of the colleges throughout the country was postponed to avoid infection.

At the conference on infantile paralysis held during the first week in Aug. in N. Y., Dr. Simon Flexner, dir. of the laboratories of the Rockefeller Inst., was elected to preside, and com. were chosen to study laboratory and prevention methods.

The conf. com. of pathologists met in N. Y. C. on the city authorities' invitation, made a report approving the measures taken by the city and declared that in seeking to abate the epidemic, stress must be laid on the early recognition and notification of the disease, and the immediate isolation of patients and cases of suspicious illness, together with particular attention to personal hygiene and cleanliness of persons and surroundings. The com. recommended the inauguration of a house to house inspection of as large a part of the city as is practicable, twice a week, for the purpose of education and of securing the early recognition, notification and isolation of the disease—and declared that satisfactory isolation is secured only in hospitals.

The cooler weather brought a decrease in the deaths in N. Y. C. The schools were opened Sept. 25, and on the following day the Health Commnrs. declared the disease was no longer epidemic.

Officers of the U. S. Public Health Service, in Sept., made a survey of the Borough of Richmond, N. Y. C., to determine how the different nationalities had been affected by the disease. The Scotch and Irish showed the fewest no. of cases. The French were not mentioned in the list, although there are many French people on Staten Island. (1st fig. is no. of cases, 2d population.)

Americans (2 negroes), 138, 29,456; Italians, 41, 7,662; Germans, 23, 13,959; Russians, 23, 3,378; Irish, 15, 12,700; Scandinavians, 15, 3,427; English, 12, 4,385; Austrians, 12, 1,656; Scotch, 1, 1,285.

(See also Index for Vital Statistics and Local Chronology.)

WAGE INCREASE IN N. Y. STATE.

More workers were employed and more wages were paid in N. Y. State factories in Sept., 1916, than in any other month since records have been kept, dating back to June, 1914. From Aug. to Sept. there was an incr. of 4% in number of employees and of 6% in amt. of wages.

The incr. in total number of employees in Sept., 1916, as compared with Sept., 1915, was 15%, and as compared with Sept., 1914, was 21%. Corresponding increases in amt. of wages were 23% and 45%, respectively.

The average weekly earnings of total number of employed in Sept., 1916, were $14.86, as compared with $14.46 in Aug., 1916, and $12.85 in Sept., 1915.

In the years from 1887-1901 there were opened in N. Y. State 4 new State hospitals and 7 new State charitable insts. In the years from 1902-1916 only 3 new State charitable insts. were opened,

THE STATUE OF LIBERTY.

Pres. Wilson, on board the Mayflower, in N. Y. Harbor, gave a wireless signal, on Dec. 2, '16, at 6.55 P.M. that bathed Bedloe's Island and the Statue of Liberty in a soft glow of white light. The new lighting plant for the statue was built on Bedloe's Island from a fund collected by the N. Y. World from over 100,000 Americans, and will be maintained by the U. S. Govt. The plan was conceived by George Williams. The illumination of the statue marks the highest development in the science of electric lighting. 246 projectors of 250 watts each and lamps of 35 volts are employed in Liberty's flood lighting system.

The Statue of Liberty was unveiled on Bedloe's Island in New York Harbor, Oct. 23, 1886. Soon after France became a republic a movement was inaugurated there to erect some suitable memorial to the fraternal feeling between the two governments. Frederic A. Bartholdi was the artist selected to do the work. $300,000 was raised in America to build the pedestal of this statue on Bedloe's Island. The statue was formally delivered to the American Minister at Paris, July 4, 1880.

The statue weighs 450,000 pounds or 225 tons. The bronze alone weighs 200,000 pounds. 46 persons can stand comfortably in the head, and the torch will hold 12. Height of statue from base to torch is 151 ft. 1 in., and from foundation of pedestal to torch is 305 ft. 6 in: Number of steps from pedestal to head is 154. Ladder leading up through the extended right arm to torch has 54 rounds. 15 500-candle power electric lamps under the new installation now furnish the torch light.

Boats leave the Battery every hour on the hour from 8 A.M. to 8 P.M., returning on the half hour. Excursion fare 25 cents. Admission free to statue.

*Rate of equalization is ratio which assessed values of real property bear to full values thereof, as determined by State Tax Commn. Equalized value of property is equitable assessment of property, based upon these rates of equalization and upon average rate for State. It is ascertained by multiplying full value of real property at rate of equalization by counties, by average rate of equalization for State. Full value of real property at rate of equalization is found by dividing assessed value of real property, 1916, by counties, by rate of equalization. The tax is computed by State Comptroller upon total equalized value of real property and assessed value of personal property, including assessed value of bank stock. Average rate of equalization for State, 85.765809 per cent. †Deducted from assessed value of real property.

U. S. SHIPPING RECORD.

Merchant shipping cleared from ports of the U. S. in the year ending June 30, 1916, set a new record, notwithstanding the Allied blockade, closing of Black Sea and withdrawal of German and Austrian merchant ships from trade. Tonnage cleared was 25,500,000, of which 2,600,000 originated in the U. S. and 23,000,000 was foreign. Previous high-water mark was 24,800 tons, cleared in year ending June 3, 1914.

INCOME TAX PAID ON $3,708,068,389.

The minimum net income of persons and corporations paying the tax on their net taxable earnings during the fiscal year 1915-1916 was $3,708,068,389. The net income of persons and corporations in N. Y. C. was $2,173,019,963. Approximately 1/4 of the income—personal and corporate—on which the Federal taxes were paid throughout the entire country is credited to persons and corporations in N. Y. C.

CITY OF NEW YORK MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

The Govt. of the City of New York has 3 officials elected by the whole city, the Mayor, the Comptroller and the Pres. of the Bd. of Aldermen. The last is Vice-Mayor. There is a Borough Pres. for each of the 5 boroughs, elected simultaneously with the Mayor, and certain depts. of borough depts. with the presidents as executives. The general city depts. are filled by appointees of the Mayor, who also names members of the Bd. of City Magistrates. The legislative branch is the Bd. of Aldermen, elected by districts. Certain constitutional officers of counties are still elected, though they are paid out of the city budget, and the counties are otherwise not considered. The charter of 1901, which went into effect Jan. 1, 1902, defines the functions of all depts.

CHARTER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

(Complete text with 1915 Amendments, Eagle Library, No. 119.)

The charter of the City of New York is a development of the charters of the former cities of New York, Brooklyn and Long Island City, differing from all of them, however, by the introduction of the principle of local control over local affairs. In this feature the charter provides a system of govt. more nearly like that of London and continental cities. For a history of charter making see Introduction to Eagle Library, No. 119, and 1902 Eagle Almanac, page 404.

SEAL AND FLAG.

The City of New York adopted on June 24, 1915, as its official emblem, a new flag, combining the colors of the United Netherlands—orange, white and blue (blue next to flagstaff)—under which the city was settled, with the design of the municipal seal, under which English authority replaced the Dutch. Founded by the Dutch in 1624, as "New Amsterdam," it was named "New York" in 1664, and a year later, on June 24, 1665, the municipal govt. was formally transferred to the Mayor and Bd. of Aldermen of the City of New York, as successors in office of the burgomasters and schefens of the City of New Amsterdam.

In the flag the colors are Dutch, the arms English, the crest distinctively American. The flag is emblematic of the courage and independence which founded the Dutch Republic and which gave to N. Y. as its birthright free government, free speech, free commerce, free schools and free religion. The flag is a page of history and its colors perpetuate a great tradition.

The design for a city seal represents an effort to perpetuate the seal adopted by the Common Council in 1686. The beaver which appears on the shield preserve the characteristic feature of the coat-of-arms granted to the New Netherlands by the States General of Holland. The windmill and flour barrels were added in 1686 as signifying the then prevailing commerce and industry. The costume and head-dress of the Indian conform to early descriptions and drawings of the tribe of the Manhattan, a branch of the Mohicans, living on Manhattan Isl.; and the sailor who appears as a supporter on the left of the shield is in the costume of an English sailor of the period, having in his hand a sounding line, and over his shoulder a "cross-staff," the implement by which the early navigators determined their latitude.

Upon a ribbon encircling lower half of the design are the words of the legend, "Sigillum Civitatis Novi Eboraci," the whole encircled by a laurel wreath. The date 1664 beneath the horizontal laurel branch signifies the year of the capture of New Amsterdam by the English and the first use of the name of the City of New York.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE MAYOR'S OFFICE.

Room 5, City Hall, 9 A.M. to 5 P.M.; Sat. to 12 M.

The executive power of the city is invested in the Mayor, the Presidents of the Boroughs and the officers of the depts. The Mayor is the chief executive officer. His term begins on the 1st day of Jan. after his election and continues for 4 yrs. He is eligible for re-election. The Mayor appoints the heads of depts. and commissioners, except those over which the Presidents of the Boroughs have jurisdiction, and except, also, the head of the Dept. of Finance. He can remove at any time any official appointed by him, except the members of the Bd. of Education, trustees of the Coll. of the City of N. Y., and trustees of some hospitals, and certain judicial officers. He himself can be removed from office by the Governor, after a hearing, upon charges.

The Mayor has the power of veto over all ordinances and resolutions of the Bd. of Aldermen, but if he does not disapprove they become laws after a lapse of 10 days, or the next meeting after 10 days.

An ordinance or resolution can be passed over the Mayor's veto by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to the Bd. of Aldermen, except that when it involves the expenditure of money, the creation of a debt or the laying of an assessment, a three-fourths vote is required. The Mayor countersigns all warrants drawn by the Comptroller upon the Chamberlain for payments on behalf of the corporation. He has also to sign all bonds, together with the Comptroller. In the absence or sickness of the Mayor the Pres. of the Bd. of Aldermen is the Acting Mayor. He shall not appoint to, or remove from office any official, unless the absence or sickness of the Mayor continues 30 days, nor shall he approve or disapprove any resolution or ordinance unless such absence or sickness continues 9 days. (For duties of Mayor see N. Y. City Charter.)

LEGISLATIVE

The legislative power of the city is vested in the Bd. of Aldermen, consisting of 73 members elected for 2 yrs., in the Pres. of the Bd. and the Presidents of the Boroughs. The salary of the Aldermen is $2,000 per yr. The Pres. of the Bd. receives $7,500 a yr. He is elected by the city for 4 yrs. Each head of an administrative dept. of the city is entitled to a seat in the Bd. of Aldermen, and shall attend its meetings when required by the board, but has no vote. No member elected to Bd. of Aldermen is eligible to any other office under the city during term for which he is elected. The board is required to meet at least once a month, except during months of Aug. and Sept. Resolutions and ordinances of the board must be passed by vote of majority of members of board. It cannot authorize expenditure of money for any celebration, procession, funeral, reception or entertainment, except by vote of four-fifths of membership. (See City Charter.)

THE LOCAL IMPROVEMENT BOARDS.

The Aldermanic districts are divided into 25 local improvement districts. (See index.) The Pres. of the Borough as chairman and the Aldermen residing in each local improvement district constitute the local board. The local boards are empowered to initiate such improvements as grading and paving streets and constructing sewers, subject to the approval of the Bd. of Estimate, if they involve an assessment. If the improvement involves a cost of more than $500,000, it must be approved by the Bd. of Aldermen. When the cost of flagging sidewalks, grading lots or fencing lots is less than $2,000, the approval of Bd. of Estimate and Apportionment is not necessary, it then becomes the duty of Borough Pres. to execute work. The local boards are authorized to hear complaints and pass resolutions on nuisances in streets or against disorderly houses, drinking saloons conducted without observance of license, gambling houses or other matters concerning peace or good government and concerning condition of poor within their respective districts. All petitions for local improvements should be addressed to the Pres. of the Borough for presentation to the local board having jurisdiction. (See City Charter.)

FIRE DEPARTMENT, CITY OF NEW YORK.

Headquarters, Municipal Bldg., Manhattan, Brooklyn Office, 367 Jay st.

The Fire Commr. is the head of the Fire Dept. He is required to appoint 2 depts. The Commr. is treasurer of the dept. and has to give a bond of $20,000. He is also trustee of the Fire Dept. Relief Fund, for which he has to give a bond of $100,000. The Commr. has power to select the heads of bureaus and assts. and as many officers and firemen as may be necessary. A pension bureau is connected with the dept. A tax of 2% is laid on the business of foreign insurance companies, which shall go to this pension fund.

The provisions of Chap. 899 of the Laws of 1911 and of the amendments thereto have added largely to the powers and duties of the Commr. in the matter of fire prevention. This law provides for a Bureau of Fire Extinguishment which under the dir. of the Fire Commr. shall have charge of the extinguishment of fires and necessary and incidental protection of property in connection therewith. The head of this bur. is the Chief of Dept. It also provides for a Bureau of Fire Prevention, the official in charge of which shall be known as the Chief of the Bureau of Fire Prevention and appointed by the Fire Commr. The former Bur. of Combustibles and Violations and Auxiliary Fire Appliances are now divisions of the Bur. of Fire Prevention. There is also in this bur. a Div. of Places of Public Assembly, an Electrical Div., a Recording Div. and a Stenographic Div.

The Bureau of Fire Prevention has charge of all matters relating to the prevention of fires, including those relating to the storage, sale, transportation or use of combustibles or explosives; to the installation and maintenance of automatic or other fire alarm systems and fire extinguishing equipment; to the means and adequacy of exits from all buildings, structures, vessels, places and premises in which numbers of persons work, live or congregate from time to time for any purpose, except tenement houses and except factories as defined by the Labor Law. On July 1, 1915, the Fire Commr. issued an order detaching the Div. of Fire Marshal of Mh'tn., Bronx and Richmond and the Div. of Fire Marshal, Bklyn. and Queens from the Bur. of Fire Prevention and consolidating them into a new bur. to be known as the Bureau of Fire Investigation. Fire Marshal T. P. Brophy, Bklyn. and Queens, was designated as Act. Chief of the new bur. and Fire Marshal J. P. Priol, Mh'tn., Bronx and Richmond, as Act. Dep. Chief thereof.

The Fire Commr. is empowered to make inspections and order, in writing, the remedying of any conditions found to exist in violation of any law or ordinance in respect to fires or the prevention of fires, except the tenement house law; but the Fire Commr. shall make no such order respecting the means and adequacy of exit from a factory as defined by the Labor Law; require, in writing, the installation, as prescribed by any law or ordinance, of automatic or other fire alarm systems and the maintenance and repair thereof, or the construction of adequate and safe means of exit, except in tenement houses and except in the case of factories as defined by the Labor Law; to require any building, structure, inclosure, vessel, place or premises which in his opinion is not adequately protected against fire perils to be vacated or condemned and removed; to cause any vessel moored to or anchored near any dock or pier in the city to be removed and secured at such place in the harbor as he may designate, provided such vessel shall be on fire or in danger of catching fire, or, by reason of its condition, a menace to shipping or to property on the waterfront of the city. He is also authorized to cause any order of his or of the dept. which is not complied with within the time fixed in the order, to be enforced and to take proceedings for the enforcement thereof. Any of the premises specified which shall be found to be perilous to life or property in case of fire therein or adjacent thereto, by reason of the nature or condition of its contents, or its use, or the overcrowding at any time of persons therein, or defects in its construction, or deficiencies in such fire alarm or fire extinguishing equipment as may be required by law or ordinance, is a nuisance within the meaning of the act, the Penal Code and the code of ordinances.

Sec. 775A of the Gr. N. Y. Charter provides that the Fire Commr. in cases where provision is not otherwise made by law or ordinance, is empowered in his discretion to require and compel regular and periodical enforcement of a fire drill, incl. instruction and practice in use of means of exit, alarm systems and fire prevention of extinguishing methods and equipment, in all bldgs., structures, enclosures, vessels, place and premises where numbers of persons work, live or congregate in City of N. Y., except tenement houses. (See Eagle Library No. 119.)

Chap. 495, Laws of 1914 amended Sec. 776 of the Gr. N. Y. Charter, by transferring to and vesting in the Fire Commr. powers and functions of Mncpl. Explosives Commn. These comprised making of regulations for the manufacture, storage, transportation and use of combustibles and explosives. The Fire Commr., accordingly created in lieu of the Commn., an administrative body called Bd. of Hazardous Trades, composed of a Dep. Commr., a Consulting Engr., a Consulting Chemist and Chief of Bur. of Fire Prevention. (See Eagle Library No. 119.)

By Sec. 7 of Chapter 503, Laws of 1916, commonly known as the Lockwood-Ellenbogen Bill, Sec. 774 of Gr. N. Y. Charter, as amended by Chap. 459, Laws of 1914, has been further amended to read as follows:

The Fire Commr. is empowered to enforce all laws and ordinances and rules and regulations of Bd. of Standards and Appeals provided for in said Chap. 503, Laws of 1916, in respect of (1) The prevention of fires and danger to and loss of life and property therefrom. (2) The storage, sale, transportation or use of combustibles, chemicals and explosives. (3) The installation and maintenance of automatic or other fire alarm systems and fire extinguishing equipment. (4) The means and adequacy of exit, in case of fire, as provided in the Labor Law, the Bldg. Code and rules and regulations of Bd. of Standards and Appeals, in and from all bldgs., structures, enclosures, vessels, places and premises in which numbers of persons work, live or congregate from time to time for any purpose except tenement houses. (5) The investigation of cause, circumstances and origin of fires and suppression of arson. (6) The use and occupancy of bldgs. and other structures except tenement houses.

The Fire Commr. shall not vary from, proceed or issue any order contrary to bldg. code, a rule, regulation or decision of bd. of standards and appeals, or of the bd. of appeals.

The powers conferred upon Fire Commr. by this sect. are excl. of Dept. of Labor, and such dept. shall not exercise any of such powers in City of N. Y.

The powers conferred by this sect. shall not, however, extend to the enforcement of any provisions of sanitary code or the regulations of Bd. of Health, nor interfere in any manner with powers or duties of Dept. of Health or of Health Commr.

HIGH PRESSURE FIRE SYSTEM.

Manhattan.

The High Pressure Fire Service in Mhnt. now in actual use protects approximately 3,712 acres. There are 2 pumping stations in Mhnt., and the high pressure system without the additions referred to has 128 miles of mains, with 2,760 hydrants.

There are two pumping stations, one at Oliver and South sts., serving the district from Houston to the Battery; the other at Gansevoort and West sts., serving the district from Houston to 34th. Either station can serve either district or both combined at any point. Each station has six electrically driven centrifugal pumps, each pump having a rated capacity which has been exceeded under actual test of 3,000 gals. per minute, at the maximum pressure of 800 lbs. per sq. in., giving a combined capacity of the two stations of 36,000 gals. per minute, or 51,840,000 gals. per day available within two minutes after the alarm sounds at any point within the High Pressure Service District.

OPERATION—On receipt of fire alarm at pumping station, simultaneously with that of Fire Hdqtrs., a pressure of 125 lbs. is immediately put on the mains, which pressure reaches the entire system before the Fire Dept. can arrive at the fire. High pressure telephone boxes are placed adjacent to or near each fire alarm box, and instant communication with the high pressure pumping stations can thus be had and orders for the increase or decrease of pressure or shut down of the system can be immediately communicated.

BOUNDARY—Hudson River, to 34th, to Madison, to 24th, to Lexington, to 23d, to Irving pl., to 14th, to 3d av., to Bowery, to Houston, to East River, to Battery, to Hudson River, to 23d.

AREA COVERED—3,712 acres, including the dry-goods district.

COST, COMPLETE—$6,749,000.

INSTALLED—Original system July 6, 1908; additions, Feb., 1911; Nov., 1911, and July, 1913.

THE SYSTEM CONSISTS OF 128 miles of mains 8 to 24 in. in diameter, the 8 in. mains being only used for hydrant branches, 2,760 4-nozzle hydrants; 465 telephone boxes directly connected to pumping stations.

Brooklyn.

The High Pressure Fire Service in Bkin. protects a total acreage in this borough of approximately 3,100 acres, exclusive of Coney Island, which protects approximately 473 acres.

There are two pumping stations. The main station is at Joralemon and Furman and the reserve station at Willoughby and St. Edwards. These stations have the same type of equipment as the Mhnt. stations, the main station having 5 units and the reserve station 3 units, with a capacity of 300 gals. p. m. each against 300 lbs. Coney Island has 1 station, located at Neptune av. and W. 12th. This station's equipment consists of 3 gas engine driven triplex double acting pumps of rated capacity of 1,500 gals. p. m. each against 150 lbs.

OPERATION—At the main and reserve stations on receipt of alarm at station, simultaneously with that at Fire Hdqtrs., a pressure of 75 lbs. is immediately put in the mains. This pressure reaches extreme ends of system and is ready when firemen reach location of fire. This pressure is increased by increments of 25 lbs. when desired by calling up station from any telephone of system used in connection with this system which connects directly with pumping stations. The pressure is shut off from system in same manner when fire is out. At the Coney Island station the maximum pressure of 150 lbs. is put on when alarm is received.

BOUNDARY—The upper bay, Hudson av., Tillary, St. Edwards, St. Felix, Ft. Greene pl., 5th av., 24th, 4th av., 39th, to the waterfront.

COST OF SYSTEM—Main system, $2,214,000; Coney Island, $183,000.

The main system consists of 39 miles of mains from 8 to 20 in. in diameter, the 8 in. mains being for hydrant branches, with 3,217 hydrants and 318 telephone boxes connected directly to stations. The Coney Isl. system consists of 6 miles of mains from 8 to 16 in. in diameter, the 8 in. mains being for hydrant branches, with 150 hydrants and 28 telephone boxes connected directly to stations.

Statistics of the Structure.

The Manhattan Bridge is the greatest suspension bridge in the world. It extends from Bowers and Canal, Mhntn., to Nassau and Bridge, Bkln. The ordinance authorizing construction was approved by the Mayor Jan. 8, 1900, and Jan. 29, 1900, the Sec. of War approved the plans. The Bkln. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rodgers, May 1, 1901, for $471,757, and the foundation was completed in Dec., 1902. The Mhntn. tower foundation contract was let to J. C. Rodgers Dec. 22, 1902, for $487,736.56, and the foundation was completed in April, 1904. On July 9, 1903, the contract for masonry pedestals on top of the tower foundations was let to J. C. Rodgers for $150,000. The Bkln. anchorage contract was let to Kosmos Engineering Co., Jan. 24, 1905, for $1,212,554, and the Mhntn. anchorage contract was let to Williams Engineering and Contracting Co., Feb. 9, 1905, for $1,197,000. Each anchorage is 237 ft. long by 182 ft. wide. The contract for furnishing the metal work for the anchorages and constructing the towers, cables, suspenders and suspended superstructure was awarded to the Ryan-Parker Construction Co. on June 15, 1906, at a price of $6,492,223. The steel towers over which the cables are swung are 336 ft. high. They are constructed on masonry piers which extend 92 ft. below and 32 ft. above mean high water level. The largest steel plates in these towers are 362 in. long, 88½ in. wide, and 2½ in. thick, weighing each 18,460 pounds. The first wire rope for the temporary cables supporting footwalks was strung on June 15, 1906. The first cable wire was strung August 10, 1906; the last one on Dec. 10, 1906. These four cables contain 37,883 galvanized acid steel wires. Diameter of cables, 2¼ in. Length of each wire about 3,224 ft.

The contract for the construction of the masonry piers, surface and sub-surface changes and steel superstructure of the Mhntn. and Bkln. approaches was entered into with J. C. Rodgers on Dec. 20, 1907, for $2,168,304.

On June 18, 1909, a contract was entered into with the Lord Electric Co. for the construction of railings, roadway and footwalk pavements and track and electrical equipments, the total cost of which was $394,163. Contract for improvement of Mhntn. plaza with Wm. P. Seaver for $817,880, dated Jan. 18, 1913. Contract for improvement of Bkln. plaza with North-Eastern Construction Co. for $596,400, dated June 23, 1913. The total length of the bridge is 6,555 ft. and the extreme width 122 ft. 6 in. The elevation above mean high water at center is 135 ft. Provision is made for 4 trolley and 4 subway tracks, one 35-ft. roadway and two promenades, each 18 ft. 7 in. wide.

On Dec. 31, 1909, the roadway was opened to the public. On July 18, 1910, the east footwalk was opened to pedestrians. On May 11, 1911, the west footwalk was opened to pedestrians. Local surface car traffic commenced Sept. 4, 1912. Total cost of constr. to Dec. 31, 1915, was $16,698,129.

NEW YORK CITY PLANNING.

The City Plan Com. of the Bd. of Estimate, created under authority of a legislative act, for the purpose of regulating the construction, location and use of bldgs. to be hereafter erected in the City of New York, devolved with the advice and aid of a corps of engrs. and draughtsmen, the preparation of a set of tentative plans and maps, which were completed in the early part of 1916 by the Commn. on Bldg. Dist. and Restrictions, appointed in May, 1914. In pursuance of the terms of the act a series of public hearings were held. At these meetings the maps showing the proposed regulation of the heights of bldgs., the area of courts and yards, the location of bldgs. designed for specified uses were discussed.

Fourteen hearings were held, beginning Mar. 27 and ending Apr. 18.

The tentative report and maps were printed and distributed widely. The Eagle issued a library number showing the maps, bldg. dista. and restrictions proposed. The Commn. on Bldg. Dist. and Restrictions made numerous changes in detail in the proposed plan after receiving and considering carefully the various suggestions and protests made to it at the hearings, but the general plan and the principles underlying it were not materially changed.

The districting provides for 4 classes of use districts: residence, business, unrestricted and undetermined. The regulations apply only to future bldgs. and do not interfere with any structure or occupancy existing before the adoption of the Commn.'s report.

In a residence dist. all kinds of business and industry are excluded. Dwellings, private clubs and most institutional bldgs. are permitted.

In a business dist. residence and business are permitted, but industrial uses are either prohibited entirely or limited in the percentage of floor space they may occupy. No bldg. may be used for factory purposes in excess of 25% of the total floor space of the bldg., but a space at least equal to the ground area of the bldg. or lot may be so used.

The terms "unrestricted dist." and "undetermined dist." are used to designate the areas for which no restrictions or regulations as to use are provided. It is assumed that the development in the unrestricted dista. will be largely industrial. With regard to the undetermined dista. the aim has been to give the greatest possible freedom of action and to avoid restrictions that may possibly hinder future growth and development.

Five classes of height dista. limiting height of the bldg. at street line to a varying multiple of the street width were provided. Five classes of area dista. were also provided, giving varying regulations as to size of yards, courts and other open spaces.

Except in dista. designated "A dista.," any bldg. that is back to back with the rear of another property and is more than 55 ft. back from nearest street must have a rear yard. The "A dist." is essentially a warehouse dist. and is confined to a narrow belt along the navigable waterfront and along the rail terminals.

Actual operation of the plan may change some of the regulations, for it is recognized that any plan of city bldg. must be modified and supplemented with the growth of the city and the changes in social and economic conditions due to the progress of invention and discovery. "City planning," said R. H. Whitten, Sec. to the Commn. on Bldg. Dist. and Restrictions, "to be effectual must be sustained and continuous. It is never completed."

The Commn. consists of E. M. Bassett, Ch.; L. Purdy, V.-Ch.; E. C. Blum, J. E. Clonin, O. M. Eldlitz, B. L. Fenner, E. R. Hardy, R. W. Lawrence, A. H. Man, A. E. Marling, G. T. Mortimer, J. F. Smith, Walter Stabler, F. S. Tomlin, G. C. Whipple, W. G. Willcox, R. H. Whitten, Sec.

The Bd. of Est. and Apporment. resolution regulating and prescribing the height and bulk of bldgs., area of courts and yards, location of trades and industries and location of bldgs. designed for specified uses and establishing the boundaries of dista. for such purposes is contained in the final report of the Commn. issued in June, 1916.

NEW YORK CITY TRANSIT DEVELOPMENT.

At the beginning of 1917 there were in operation more than 80 miles of 325 addl. track miles of new rapid transit lines provided for under the Dual System Contracts, signed in 1913. It is est. that at end of the year there will be at least 150 more track miles open to traffic, incl. some of most important of the new lines.

Work is being pressed on all lines under construction. There were on Jan. 1, 1917, nearly 17,000 men employed upon various city and co. contracts for new subways and "L" R.R.s. and extensions. The cost of entire Dual System will exceed $350,000,000, according to latest estimates prepared by engrs. of Public Service Commn.

Contracts for construction work already awarded involve an outlay o. over $200,000,000. There remain relatively few contracts to be awarded. These incl. the Livonia av. line, Bkln.; the Queensboro subway extension west to Times Sq., Mhntn., and about sixty stations and several track installation contracts.

New rapid transit lines in actual operation comprise the extension of the 4th Av. subway, Bkln., from 65th to 86th sts.; 3d tracks on B'way "L" line, Bkln., from Havemeyer st. to Myrtle av.; the extension of Queensboro subway from Jackson av. station to Hunter's Point av. station, L. I. C.; the New Utrecht av. line, Bkln., from a connection with the 4th Av. line at 36th st. to 25th av.; the Queensboro subway from Lexington av., Mhntn., west to Grand Central sta., and the Queensboro subway from Hunter's Point av., north to Queensboro Bridge Plaza sta.

The new lines which the Public Service Commn. expects to put in operation during current year are: Astoria and Corona lines, Queens; White Plains Rd. extension and Jerome av. extension, the Bronx; Park Pl., William and Clark St. line, Mhntn.; 7th Av. line from 42d st. to the Battery, Mhntn.; Flatbush av.-E. 11th St. line, Bkln.; portion of Southern Blvd. line, the Bronx; West Farms "L" connection; connection of the 2d Av. "L," Mhntn., with Queensboro line, via Queensboro Bridge; Canal St.-B'way subway from Mhntn. Bridge to 59th st. and to Front st., Mhntn.; New Utrecht "L" line from 25th av. to Coney Island; Culver line from 10th av. to Coney Island; addl. tracks on B'way "L," Bkln., and the Jamaica Av. extension. (See pages 529-533, 1916 Eagle Almanac, for tables showing progress on subway contracts under Dual System.)

JAMAICA BAY IMPROVEMENT.

A new plan for the improvement of the waterfront between Mill Basin and Fresh Creek Basin, Jamaica Bay, was adopted by the Sinking Fund Commis. and approved by the Sec. of War in 1916. This plan provides for establishing the pierhead line generally 950 ft. inshore of the line approved in May, 1911, establishing of a bulkhead line between Mill Basin and Bergen Beach, between Paerdegat Basin and Canarsie and east of Canarsie 1,000 ft. inshore of the proposed pierhead line, the establishing of a marginal street around the head of Paerdegat Basin, establishing of a channel 1,000 ft. in width outshore of the proposed pierhead line and the creation of a new basin south of Bergen Beach. Total of all appropriations to June, 1915, amt. to $850,577.83; transferred under Rivers and Harbors Act of 1915, $150,000. Total, $700,000.

Continuing the dredging work in Mill Basin, bids were opened by Dock Dept. on Oct. 2, '16, for dredging at head of Mill Basin, providing for a depth of 18 ft. from Flatbush av. to about E. 56th. It requires the removal of about 450,000 cubic yds. of material, which will be deposited on the Curley marsh lands and the lands of the Losel Realty Corp., bet. E. 52d and E. 56th. Contracts provide for the construction of 1,100 ft. of sheet pile bulkhead. The Losel Realty Corp. constructs a bulkhead in front of its property. A platform 400 ft. long and a bulkhead 1,600 ft. in length at Flatbush av. have been constructed, and the completion of the foregoing dredging will make them available commercially.

NATIONAL AND STATE INDEBTEDNESS, 1870-1913.

The following is from latest report on National and State indebtedness and fund and investments from 1870 to 1913, issued by the Bureau of the Census.

The total debt of the 48 State Governments on June 30, 1913, amounted to $42,796,535. Of this total, $40,368,569 represented funded debt, and $2,427,966 represented floating debt. The 48 States reported $84,836,427 in bonds and $38,380,142 in sinking fund assets, leaving their debt (less sinking fund assets) $46,456,285. The per capita debt for the 48 States amounted to $1.67 on June 30, 1913.

In contrast with the debt of the 48 State Governments, the National Government had a total debt on June 30, 1913, of $2,916,204,914. Of this total, the funded debt amounted to $2,540,522,239, and the floating debt amounted to $375,682,675. Of the funded debt, the bonded indebtedness amounted to $273,366,169, while the special debt obligations amounted to $2,267,156,070. The sinking fund assets, or cash in the U. S. Treasury available for the payment of debt, consisting of accumulated trust funds, gold and silver and in the Treasury vault, not only were sufficient to eliminate entirely the special debt obligations but also to reduce the bonded debt. The total debt, less cash in the Treasury vault, amounted to $2,267,156,070, or about one-third of the total debt of the 48 States.

The net debt of the National Government represents three times the total per capita debt of the 48 States. Of the total debt of the National Government, $1,916,204,914, or 65 per cent, while the debt of the State Governments amounted to $414,975,611, or 14 per cent, of the total.

LABOR.

Organized labor received more in the year ended with May 1, 1916, in increased wages, shortening of hours and legislation than ever before in its history, according to statements of officials of the Amer. Fed. of Labor, Apr. 14. Wage advances were general the country over in virtually every line of industry, and in benefitting labor were put on the statute books of every State in the Union except 15. Wage increases were greatest in metal trades, many of which were stimulated by war orders. Cotton manufacturing was the only main industry which did not grant substantial increases. The metal trades too, claimed greatest no. of strikes during the year, though many plants increased the pay of their men and cut working hours voluntarily.

The most significant features of the year's labor legislation were the enactment of workmen's compensation laws and the growth of the industrial common plan. This plan unifies authority the administration of workmen's compensation, factory inspection and other laws. It was adopted during the year by Cal., Ind., Mont., Nev. and N. Y.

Unemployment received attention of a number of legislatures. Ill. estd. a common. on unemployment; Cal. and Nev. investigated unemployment conditions, and Idaho provided emergency employment through co. boards. Public employment offices were established by Cal., Idaho, Iowa, N. J. and Pa. Ill., Mich. and Ohio attended their public employment system. States provided for licensing and superv. public employment offices. Laws relating to employment of women and children were passed by no. of States. Ark. and Kan. enacted minimum wage laws and Cal., Mass. and Wash. amended minimum wage laws already in force. States now have minimum wage legislation. Ark. and Pa. passed child labor legislation during 1916.

BROOKLYN WATERFRONT DEVELOPMENT.

The principal development project along the Bkln. front was the practical completion of the construction of the 3 big piers at 29th, 30th and 35th sts. The last of the contracts for these piers was awarded on Oct. 1, 1915, and they are now in use.

This property was purchased by the City in 1903 at $1.10 per sq. ft. The total cost of dredging the above area in 1909 was $755,590.18. Total cost of wall for above area in 1911 was $361,690.75. Amount of contracts for 3 piers and sheds was $1,243,317.50; the City receives total annual rental of $195,430.75. The upland in rear of these piers extending from 28th to 36th and from westerly side of 2d av. to bulkhead was purchased in 1908 and amts. to 1,005,000 sq. ft., purchase price $1.10. A lease has been made for a space 110x220 at 15 cts. sq. ft.

The 29th St. Pier is 1,215 ft. in length and 80 ft. in width and has been leased to the U. S. and Brazil S. S. Co. at $35,000 per annum.

The 30th St. Pier is 1,324 ft. in length, 125 ft. in width and has been leased to the Norwegian-Amer. Line at a rental of $60,000 per annum.

The 35th St. Pier is 1,739 ft. in length and 175 ft. in width. It is leased to the Luckenbach S. S. Co. at $100,430.75 per annum. It is the largest commercial pier in the world.

These piers have added nearly 2 miles of wharfage space and over half a million sq. ft. of dock space.

Work on Barge Canal.

Work of the Barge Canal is more than 90% completed, but owing to long time required for construction of the big R. R. bridges in westerly section it will take to Jan. 1, 1919, to complete entire waterway to Buffalo. The litigation over question as to whether State or R. R. should pay for the construction of these bridges delayed beginning of work upon them.

The Court of Appeals decided that the State should pay for their construction and some of them are now being built by the R. R.'s, the State paying for the work.

Marginal Railroad.

The Bkln. Marginal R. R. Bill, signed by Gov. Whitman on May 24, 1915, as an amendment to R. R. law permits R. R. cos. to hold stocks, bonds or other evidences of indebtedness on a freight term. co. which it is proposed to incorporate to operate term. facilities in Bkln. and Queens.

The city has acquired most of land necessary for proposed marginal freight R. R. along waterfront and for classification and transfer yard at Erie Basin. The 8th ward market site at 39th st. has also been taken over for a term. yard and the car float ferry slips.

Pres. Peters of L. I. R. R. is Ch. of the trunk lines com. and the cost of road to the city will be $2,831,000, which incl. a 2-track "L" road from Polar st. to 42d st.

Plans have been approved by the Bd. of Estimate and the city and the trunk line railroads have come to an agreement as to operation. The work of actual construction is scheduled to begin the early part of 1917.

Dock Improvements.

A shed on the 23d St. Pier, 600 ft. to 700 ft. in length, leased to the Cuban-Amer. S. S. Co., has been completed. The Italian ship piers at W. 56th and W. 57th, 700 ft. in length, are being widened 110 ft. and 75 ft. Construction is under way for bldg. double story sheds on these piers and a shed strip lying back of the bulkhead bet. 56th and 57th. Additional wharfage has been erected for the covered dump at 77th st., N. R., for Street Cleaning Dept., eliminating the nuisance of dumping refuse and ashes in the open.

The Dover St. E. R. Pier for the B. & O. R. R. is nearing completion. The city pier at Stapleton, S. L., has been shedded and improved by pulling out the racks of the abandoned ferry slips on the north side of the pier, which will permit the use of both sides of the dock.

Work is progressing rapidly on the big 1,000 ft. piers for ships of the largest class, for which there was no suitable landing place in the past, is progressing rapidly. The big cofferdam has been removed and the pier at the ft. of 45th st. has been completed as far as the blasting out of the slips is concerned. Work has begun on the superstructure of the piers, which will be completed in the fall of 1917. These 2 piers will be finest in world and will cost not far from $4,000,000.

EAGLE'S 75TH ANNIVERSARY.

The Brooklyn Daily Eagle celebrated its diamond jubilee on Oct. 26, 1916. In commemoration of the 75th anniversary an edition of 180 pages was issued and in the evening, at the Bkin. Academy of Music, a pageant depicting a series of episodes in the history of The Eagle, from the founding of the newspaper, Oct. 26, 1841, to the present day, was presented by members of The Eagle staff.

After the pageant there was a presentation of 50-year and 25-year service medals to Eagle veterans. The veterans, headed by Col. Wm.
 Hester, Pres. of The Eagle corporation, held a reception on the stage. Dancing in the Academy of Music banquet hall followed.

The anniversary edition issued by The Eagle included a pictorial history section of 100 pages, representing months of research into the history of Bkin.; a historic feature section of 24 pages containing many reminiscences from old readers of The Eagle; and an anniversary feature section composed of a number of forecasts by prominent persons of marvels the next 75 years will develop.

Letters and telegrams of congratulations were received from President Wilson, Charles E. Hughes, ex-President William H. Taft, Governor Whitman, Secretary of State Lansing,
 Speaker Champ Clark, Vice-President Thomas
 R. Marshall, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Ambassador William G. Sharp and numerous others.

VOLCANOES AND EARTHQUAKES.

(Prepared by the Natl. Geographic Society.)

The activity of Mt. Vesuvius was renewed early in Jan., 1916, and in June was so great that the nearest inhabitants were forced to leave the neighborhood.

An eruption of Lassen Peak broke out in July, 1916. Earlier the volcano had developed a great fissure nearly 2,000 ft. long.

The bottom of the Caribbean Sea was upheaved by a violent submarine volcanic outburst. The eruption was observed by the Scoresby-Routledge Easter Island expedition on its return voyage.

The important expedition to Katmai volcano, Alaska, under Dr. R. F. Griggs, financed by the Natl. Geographic Society, returned and reported discoveries of unusual interest. The wonderful "Valley of the Ten Thousand Smokes," among the mountains toward Bering Sea, was entered by Dr. Griggs, and although the period of his observations seemed to be one of less than the usual activity, he estimated that there were 1,000 columns of steam more than 500 ft. high. In the Katmai region a number of large volcanoes were discovered and a canyon rivaling the depth of the Colorado Canyon. The crater of Katmai was found to be almost as large as the whole mountain of Vesuvius. A study of plant life near the volcano yielded incontestable evidence that plants recovered after 3 years burial in the volcanic ash, during which no vegetative activity was possible. It was also found that new seedlings of all the important plants had germinated in the deposits of the volcano's eruption and had survived the winter.

Gracias, Honduras, and several villages in Guatemala and San Salvador were damaged by earthquakes reported in Oct., 1915.

The crater of Manna Loa, Hawaii, was reported in eruption May 22, 1916.

(See page 356 of 1916 Eagle Almanac and previous vols. for records of seismic activity.)

THE CURB MARKET.

The Broad St. Curb Market has been one of the principal war stock markets of the world. Million share days during the autumn of 1915 were not unusual. Many big corporations, such as Amer. Internat., Midvale Steel and Ordnance, United Motors, Sinclair Oil and Refining, Cerrito Pasco Copper, Central Foundry, United Alloys Steel, etc., were traded in on the Curb. During the railway re-organizations, the new stocks in Western, Pacific, Rock Island, etc., found a market first on the Curb.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM, 1916

Democratic Convention of 1916 was held at St. Louis, Mo., June 14-16. Woodrow Wilson of N. J. was nominated for President and Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana for Vice-President. Following platform was adopted:

The Democratic Party, in national convention assembled, adopts the following declaration to the end that the people of the United States may both realize the achievements wrought by four years of Democratic administration and be apprised of the policies to which the party is committed for the further conduct of national affairs.

Record of Achievement.

We endorse the administration of Woodrow Wilson. It speaks for itself. It is the best exposition of sound Democratic policy at home and abroad.

We challenge comparison of our record, our keeping of pledges and our constructive legislation with those of any party of any time.

We found our country hampered by special privilege, a vicious tariff, obsolete banking laws and an inelastic currency. Our foreign affairs were dominated by commercial interests for their selfish ends. The Republican Party, despite repeated pledges, was impotent to correct abuses which it had fostered. Under our administration, under a leadership which has never faltered, these abuses have been corrected, and our people have been freed therefrom.

Our archaic banking and currency system, prolific of panic and disaster under Republican administrations—long the refuge of the Money Trust—has been supplanted by the Federal Reserve Act, a true democracy of credit under Government control, already proved a financial bulwark in a world crisis, mobilising our resources, placing abundant credit at the disposal of legitimate industry and making a currency panic impossible.

We have created a Federal Trade Commission to accommodate the perplexing questions arising under the anti-trust laws so that monopoly may be strangled at its birth and legitimate industry encouraged. Fair competition in business is now assured.

We have effected an adjustment of the tariff, adequate for revenue under peace conditions, and fair to the consumer and to the producer. We have adjusted the burdens of taxation so that swollen incomes bear their equitable share. Our revenues have been sufficient in times of world stress, and will largely exceed the expenditures for the current fiscal year.

We have lifted human labor from the category of commodities and have secured to the workingman the right of voluntary association for his protection and welfare. We have protected the rights of the laborer against the unwarranted issuance of writs of injunction and have guaranteed to him the right of trial by jury in cases of alleged contempt committed outside the presence of the court.

We have advanced the parcels post to genuine efficiency, enlarged the Postal Savings system, added 10,000 rural delivery routes and extensions, thus reaching 2,500,000 additional people, improved the Postal Service in every branch, and for the first time in our history placed the Postoffice system on a self-supporting basis, with actual surplus in 1912, 1914 and 1916.

Economic Freedom.

The reforms which were most obviously needed to clear away special privilege, prevent unfair discrimination and release the energies of men of all ranks and advantages have been effected by recent legislation. We must now remove, as far as possible, every remaining element of unrest and uncertainty from the path of the business men of America, and secure for them a continued period of quiet, assured and confident prosperity.

Tariff.

We reaffirm our belief in the doctrine of a tariff for the purpose of providing sufficient revenue for the operation of the Government economically administered and unreservedly endorse the Underwood tariff law as truly exemplifying that doctrine. We recognize that tariff rates are necessarily subject to change to meet changing conditions in the world's production and trade. The events of the last two years have brought about many momentous changes. In some respects their effects are yet conjectural and wait to be disclosed, particularly in regard to our foreign trade.

Two years of a war which has directly involved most of the chief industrial nations of the world and which has indirectly affected the life and industry of all nations, are bringing about economic changes more varied and far-reaching than the world has ever before experienced. In order to ascertain just what those changes may be, the Democratic Congress is providing for a non-partisan tariff commission to make impartial and thorough study of every economic fact that may throw light either upon our past or upon our future fiscal policy with regard to the imposition of taxes on imports or with regard to the changed and changing conditions under which our trade is carried on. We cordially endorse this timely proposal and declare ourselves in sympathy with the principle and purpose of shaping legislation within that field in accordance with clearly established facts rather than in accordance with the demands of selfish interests or upon information provided largely, if not exclusively, by them.

Americanism.

The part which the United States will play in the new day of international relationships that is now upon us will depend upon our preparation and our character. The Democratic Party, therefore, recognizes the assertion and triumphant demonstration of the indivisibility and coherent strength of the nation as the supreme issue of this day in which the whole world faces the crisis of manifold change. It summons all men of whatever origin or creed, who would count themselves Americans, to join in making clear to all the world the unity and consequent power of America. This is an issue of patriotism. To taint it with partisanship would be to defile it. In this day of test America must show itself not a nation of partisans, but a nation of patriots. There is gathered here in America the best of the blood, the industry and the genius of the world, the elements of a great race and a magnificent society to be welded into a mighty and splendid nation.

Whoever, actuated by the purpose to promote the interest of a foreign power, in disregard of our own country's welfare or to injure this Government in its foreign relations or to cripple or destroy its industries at home, and whoever by arousing prejudices of a racial, religious or other nature creates discord and strife among our people so as to obstruct the wholesome process of unification, is faithless to the trust which the privileges of citizenship repose in him and is disloyal to his country. We, therefore, condemn as subversive of this nation's unity and integrity and as destructive of its welfare the activities and designs of every group or organization, political or otherwise, that has for its object the advancement of the interest of a foreign power, whether such object is promoted by intimidating the Government, a political party, or representatives of the people or which is calculated and tends to divide our people into antagonistic groups and thus to destroy that complete agreement and solidarity of the people and that unity of sentiment and purpose so essential to the perpetuity of the nation and its free institutions. We condemn all alliances and combinations of individuals in this country of whatever nationality or descent, who agree and conspire together for the purpose of embarrassing or weakening our Government or of improperly influencing or coercing our public representatives in dealing or negotiating with any foreign power. We charge that such conspiracies among a limited number exist and have been instigated for the purpose of advancing the interests of foreign countries to the prejudice and detriment of our own country. We condemn any political party which, in view of the activity of such conspirators, surrenders its integrity or modifies its policy.

Preparedness.

Along with the proof of our character as a nation must go the proof of our power to play the part that legitimately belongs to us. The people of the United States love peace. They respect the rights and covet the friendship of all other nations. They desire neither any additional territory nor any advantage which can not be peacefully gained by their skill, their industry, or their enterprise; but they insist upon having absolute freedom of national life and policy, and feel that they owe it to themselves and to the role of spirited independence which it is their sole ambition to play, that they should render themselves secure against the hazard of interference from any quarter, and should be able to protect their rights upon the seas or in any part of the world. We, therefore, favor the maintenance of an army fully adequate to the requirements of order, of safety and of the protection of the nation's rights; the fullest development of modern methods of seacoast defense and the maintenance of an adequate reserve of citizens trained to arms and prepared to safeguard the people and territory of the United States against any danger of hostile action which may unexpectedly arise; and a fixed policy for the continuous development of a navy worthy to support the great naval traditions of the United States and fully equal to the international tasks which this nation hopes and expects to take part in performing. The plans and enactments of the present Congress afford substantial proof of our purpose in this exigent matter.

International Relations.

The Democratic administration has throughout the present war scrupulously and successfully held to the old paths of neutrality and to the peaceful pursuit of the legitimate objects of our national life which statesmen of all parties and creeds have prescribed for themselves in America since the beginning of our history. But the circumstances of the last two years have revealed necessities of international action which no former generation can have foreseen. We hold that it is the duty of the United States to use its power, not only to make itself safe at home, but also to make secure its just interests throughout the world, and, both for this end and in the interest of humanity, to assist the world in securing settled peace and justice. We believe that every people has the right to choose the sovereignty under which it shall live; that the small States of the world have a right to enjoy from other nations the same respect for their sovereignty and for their territorial integrity that great and powerful nations expect and insist upon; and that the world has a right to be free from every disturbance of its peace that has its origin in aggression or disregard of the rights of peoples and nations; and we believe that the time has come when it is the duty of the United States to join with the other nations of the world in any feasible association that will effectively serve those principles, to maintain inviolate the complete security of the highway of the seas for the common and unhindered use of all nations.

The present administration has consistently sought to act upon and realize in its conduct of the foreign affairs of the nation the principle that should be the object of any association of the nations formed to secure the peace of the world and the maintenance of national and individual rights. It has followed the highest American traditions. It has preferred respect for the fundamental rights of smaller States even to property interests, and has secured the friendship of the people of such States for the United States by refusing to make a mere material interest an excuse for the assertion of our superior power against the dignity of their sovereign independence. It has regarded the lives of its citizens and the claims of humanity as of greater moment than material rights, and peace as the best basis for the just settlement of commercial claims. It has made the honor and ideals of the United States its standard alike in negotiation and action.

Pan American Concord.

We recognize now, as we have always recognized, a definite and common interest between the United States and the other peoples and republics of the Western Hemisphere in all matters of national independence and free political development. We favor the establishment and maintenance of the closest relations of amity and mutual helpfulness between the United States and the other republics of the American continents for the support of peace and the promotion of a common prosperity. To that end we favor all measures which may be necessary to facilitate intimate intercourse and promote commerce between the United States and our neighbors to the south, and such international understandings as may be practicable and suitable to accomplish these ends.

We commend the action of the Democratic administration in holding the Pan American Financial Conference at Washington in May, 1915, and organizing the International High Commission which represented the United States in the recent meeting of representatives of the Latin American Republics at Buenos Aires, April, 1916, which have so greatly promoted the friendly relations between the people of the Western Hemisphere.

Mexico.

The Monroe doctrine is reasserted as a principle of Democratic faith. That doctrine guarantees to independent republics of the two Americas against aggression from another continent. It implies, as well, the most scrupulous regard upon our part for the sovereignty of each of them. We court their good will. We seek not to despoil them. The want of a stable, responsible government in Mexico, capable of repressing and punishing marauders and bandit bands, who have not only taken the lives and seized and destroyed the property of American citizens in that country, but have insolently invaded our soil, made war upon and murdered our people thereon, has rendered it necessary temporarily to occupy, by our armed forces, a portion of the territory of that friendly State. Until by the restoration of law and order therein, a repetition of such incursions is im probable, the necessity for their remaining will continue. Intervention, implying as it does military subjugation, is revolting to the people of the United States, notwithstanding the provocation to that course has been great and should be resorted to, if at all, only as a last recourse. The stubborn resistance of the President and his advisers to every demand and suggestion to enter upon it is creditable alike to them and to the people in whose name he speaks.

Merchant Marine.

Immediate provision should be made for the development of the carrying trade of the United States. Our foreign commerce has in the past been subject to many unnecessary and vexatious obstacles in the way of legislation of Republican Congresses. Until the recent Democratic tariff legislation, it was hampered by unreasonable burdens of taxation. Until the recent banking legislation, it had at its disposal few of the necessary instrumentalities of international credit and exchange. Until the formulation of the pending act to promote the construction of a merchant marine, it lacked even the prospect of adequate carriage by sea. We heartily indorse the purposes and policy of the pending shipping bill and favor all such additional measures of constructive or remedial legislation as may be necessary to restore our flag to the seas and to provide further facilities for our foreign commerce. Particularly such laws as may be requisite to remove acts of conditions of competition in the dealings of American merchants and producers with competitors in foreign markets.

Conservation.

For the safeguarding and quickening of the life of our own people, we favor the conservation and development of the natural resources of the country through a policy which shall be positive rather than negative, a policy which shall not withhold such resources from development, but which, while permitting and encouraging their use, shall prevent both waste and monopoly in their exploitation, and we earnestly favor the passage of acts which will accomplish these objects, reaffirming the declaration of the platform of 1912 on this subject.

The policy of reclaiming our arid lands should be steadily adhered to.

The Administration and the Farmer.

We favor the vigorous prosecution of investigations and plans to render agriculture more profitable and country life more healthful, comfortable and attractive, and we believe that this should be a dominant aim of the nation as well as of the States. With all its recent improvement, farming still lags behind other occupations in development as a business, and the advantages of an advancing civilization have not accrued to rural communities in a fair proportion. Much has been accomplished in this field under the present administration, far more than under any previous administration. In the Federal Reserve Act of the last Congress and the Rural Credits Act of the present Congress, the machinery has been created which will make credit available to the farmer constantly and readily, placing him at last upon a footing of equality with the merchant and the manufacturer in securing the capital necessary to carry on its enterprises. Grades and standards necessary to the intelligent and successful conduct of the business of agriculture have also been established or are in the course of being established by law. The long-needed Cotton Futures Act, passed by the 63d Congress, has now been in successful operation for nearly two years. A Grain Grades Bill, long needed, and a Permissive Warehouse Bill, intended to provide better storage facilities and to enable the farmer to obtain certificates upon which he may secure advances of money, have been passed by the House of Representatives, have been favorably reported to the Senate, and will probably become law during the present session of the Congress. Both houses have passed a good-roads measure which will be of far-reaching benefit to all agricultural communities. Above all, the most extraordinary and significant progress has been made, under the direction of the Department of Agriculture, in extending and perfecting practical farm demonstration work, which is so rapidly substituting scientific for empirical farming. But it is also necessary that rural activities should be better directed through co-operation and organization, that unfair methods of competition should be eliminated and the conditions requisite for the just, orderly and economical marketing of farm products created. We approve the Democratic administration for having emphatically directed attention for the first time to the essential interests of agriculture involved in farm marketing and finance, for creating the Office of Markets and Rural Organization in connection with the Department of Agriculture, and for extending the co-operative machinery necessary for conveying information to farmers by means of demonstrations. We favor continued liberal provision, not only for the benefit of production, but also for the study and solution of problems of farm marketing and finance and for the extension of existing agencies for improving country life.

Good Roads.

The happiness, comfort and prosperity of rural life, and the development of the city, are alike conserved by the construction of public highways. We, therefore, favor national aid in the construction of post roads and roads for military purposes.

Government Employment.

We hold that the life, health and strength of the men, women and children of the nation are its greatest asset, and that in the conservation of these the Federal Government, wherever it acts as the employer of labor, should both on its own account and as an example, put into effect the following principles of just employment:

1. A living wage for all employees.
2. A working day not to exceed eight hours, with one day of rest in seven.
3. The adoption of safety appliances and the establishment of thoroughly sanitary conditions of labor.
4. Adequate compensation for industrial accidents.

6. The standards of the "Uniform Child Labor Law" wherever minors are employed.

8. Such provisions for decency, comfort and health in the employment of women as should be accorded the mothers of the race.

7. An equitable retirement law providing for the retirement of superannuated and disabled employees of the civil service, to the end that a higher standard of efficiency may be maintained.

We believe also that the adoption of similar principles should be urged and applied in the legislation of the States with regard to labor within their borders, and that through every possible agency the life and health of the people of the nation should be conserved.

Labor.

We declare our faith in the Seamen's Act, passed by the Democratic Congress, and we promise our earnest continuance of its enforcement.

We favor the speedy enactment of an effective Federal Child Labor law, and the regulation of the shipment of prison-made goods in interstate commerce.

We favor the creation of a Federal Bureau of Safety in the Department of Labor, to gather facts concerning industrial hazards, and to recommend legislation to prevent the maiming and killing of human beings.

We favor the extension of the powers and functions of the Federal Bureau of Mines.

We favor the development upon a systematic scale of the means, already begun under the present administration, to assist laborers throughout the Union to seek and obtain employment, and the extension by the Federal Government of the same assistance and encouragement as is now given to agricultural training.

We heartily commend our newly established Department of Labor for its fine record in settling strikes by personal advice and through conciliating agents.

Public Health.

We favor a thorough reconsideration of the means and methods by which the Federal Government handles questions of public health to the end that human life may be conserved by the elimination of loathsome diseases, the improvement of sanitation and the diffusion of a knowledge of disease prevention.

We favor the establishment by the Federal Government of tuberculosis sanitariums for needy tubercular patients.

Senate Rules.

We favor such alteration of the rules of procedure of the Senate of the United States as will permit the prompt transaction of the nation's legislative business.

Economy and the Budget.

We demand careful economy in all expenditures for the support of the Government, and to that end favor a return by the House of Representatives to its former practice of initiating and preparing all appropriation bills through a single committee chosen from its membership, in order that responsibility may be centered, expenditures standardized and made uniform and waste and duplication in the public service as much as possible avoided. We favor this as a practicable first step toward a budget system.

Civil Service.

We reaffirm our declarations for the rigid enforcement of the Civil Service laws.

Philippine Islands.

We heartily indorse the provisions of the bill, recently passed by the House of Representatives, further promoting self-government in the Philippine Islands as being in fulfillment of the policy declared by the Democratic Party in its last national platform, and we reiterate our indorsement of the purpose of ultimate independence for the Philippine Islands, expressed in the preamble of that measure.

Woman Suffrage.

We recommend the extension of the franchise to the women of the country by the States upon the same terms as to men.

Protection of Citizens.

We again declare the policy that the sacred rights of American citizenship must be preserved at home and abroad, and that no treaty shall receive the sanction of our Government which does not expressly recognize the absolute equality of all our citizens, irrespective of race, creed or previous nationality, and which does not recognize the right of expatriation. The American Government should protect American citizens in their rights not only at home, but abroad, and any country having a government should be held to strict accountability for any wrongs done them, either to person or to property. At the earliest practicable opportunity our country should strive earnestly for peace among the warring nations of Europe and seek to bring about the adoption of the fundamental principle of justice and humanity, that all men shall enjoy equality of right and freedom from discrimination in the lands wherein they dwell.

Prison Reform.

We demand that the modern principles of prison reform be applied in our Federal Penal System. We favor such work for prisoners as shall give them training in remunerative occupations, so that they may make an honest living when released from prison; the setting apart of the net wages of the prisoner to be paid to his dependent family or to be preserved for his own use upon his release; the liberal extension of the principles of the Federal Parole law, with due regard both to the welfare of the prisoner and the interests of society; the adoption of the probation system, especially in the case of first offenders not convicted of serious crimes.

Pensions.

We renew the declarations of recent Democratic platforms relating to generous pensions for soldiers and their widows and call attention to our record of performance in this particular.

Waterways and Flood Control.

We renew the declaration in our last two platforms relating to the development of our waterways. The recent devastation of the lower Mississippi Valley and several other sections by floods accentuates the movement for the regulation of river flow by additional bank and levee protection below, and diversion, storage and control of the flood waters above, and their utilization for beneficial purposes in the reclamation of arid and swamp lands, and development of water power, instead of permitting the floods to continue as heretofore agents of destruction. We hold that the control of the Mississippi River is a national problem. The preservation of the depth of its waters for purposes of navigation, the building of levees and works of bank protection to maintain the integrity of its channel and prevent the overflow of its valley resulting in the interruption of interstate commerce, the disorganization of the mail service and the enormous loss of life and property, impose an obligation which alone can be discharged by the National Government.

We favor the adoption of a liberal and comprehensive plan for the development and improvement of our harbors and inland waterways with economy and efficiency so as to permit their navigation by vessels of standard draft.

Alaska.

It has been and will be the policy of the Democratic Party to enact all laws necessary for the speedy development of Alaska and its great natural resources.

Territories.

We favor granting to the people of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico the traditional territorial government accorded to all Territories of the United States since the beginning of our Government, and we believe that the officials appointed to administer the government of these several Territories should be qualified by previous bona fide residence.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM, 1916

The Republican Convention of 1916 was held at Chicago, Ill., June 7-10. Charles E. Hughes of N. Y. was nominated for President and Charles W. Fairbanks of Ind. for Vice-President.

Following platform was adopted:

In 1861 the Republican Party stood for the Union. As it stood for the Union of States, it now stands for a united people, true to American ideals, loyal to American traditions, knowing no allegiance except to the Constitution, to the Government and to the flag of the United States. We believe in American policies at home and abroad.

Protection of American Rights.

We declare that we believe in and will enforce the protection of every American citizen in all the rights secured to him by the Constitution, by treaties and the law of nations, at home and abroad, by land and sea. These rights, which, in violation of the specific promise of their party made at Baltimore in 1912, the Democratic President and the Democratic Congress have failed to defend, we will unflinchingly maintain.

Foreign Relations.

We desire peace, the peace of justice and right, and believe in maintaining a strict and honest neutrality between the belligerents in the great war in Europe. We must perform all our duties and insist upon all our rights as neutrals without fear and without favor. We believe that peace and neutrality, as well as the dignity and influence of the United States, can not be preserved by shift expedients, by phrasemaking, by performances in language, or by attitudes ever changing in an effort to secure groups of voters. The present administration has destroyed our influence abroad and humiliated us in our own eyes. The Republican Party believes that a firm, consistent and courageous foreign policy, always maintained by Republican Presidents in accordance with American traditions, is the best, as it is the only true way, to preserve our peace and restore us to our rightful place among the nations. We believe in the pacific settlement of international disputes and favor the establishment of a world court for that purpose.

Mexico.

We deeply sympathize with the 15,000,000 people of Mexico who for three years have seen their country devastated, their homes destroyed, their fellow citizens murdered and their women outraged, by armed bands of desperadoes led by self-seeking, conscienceless agitators, who, when temporarily successful in any locality, have neither sought nor been able to restore order or establish and maintain peace.

We express the horror and indignation at the outrages which have been and are being perpetrated by these bandits upon American men and women who were or are in Mexico by invitation of the laws and of the Government of that country and whose rights to security of person and property are guaranteed by solemn treaty obligations. We denounce the indefensible methods of Candidates.

We unreservedly endorse our President and Vice-President, Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey and Thomas Riley Marshall of Indiana, who have performed the functions of their great offices faithfully and impartially, and with distinguished ability.

In particular we commend to the American people the splendid diplomatic victories of our great President, who has preserved the vital interests of our Government and its citizens, and kept us out of war.

Woodrow Wilson stands today the greatest American of his generation.

Conclusion.

This is a critical hour in the history of America, a critical hour in the history of the world. Upon the record above set forth, which shows great constructive achievement in following out a consistent policy for our domestic and internal development; upon the record of the Democratic administration, which has maintained the honor, the dignity and the interests of the United States, and at the same time retained the respect and friendship of all the nations of the world; and upon the great policies for the future strengthening of the life of our country, the enlargement of our national vision and the ennobling of our international relations, as set forth above, we appeal with confidence to the voters of the country.

Interference employed by this administration in the internal affairs of Mexico and refer with shame to its failure to discharge the duty of this country as next friend to Mexico, its duty to other powers who have relied upon us as such friend, and its duty to our citizens in Mexico, in permitting the continuance of such conditions, first by failure to act promptly and firmly, and second, by lending its influence to the continuation of such conditions through recognition of one of the factions responsible for these outrages.

We pledge our aid in restoring order, and maintaining peace in Mexico. We promise to our citizens on and near our border and to those in Mexico, wherever they may be found, adequate and absolute protection in their lives, liberty and property.

Monroe Doctrine.

We reaffirm our approval of the Monroe doctrine, and declare its maintenance to be a policy of this country essential to its present and future peace and safety and to the achievement of its manifest destiny.

Latin America.

We favor the continuance of Republican policies which will result in drawing more and more closely the commercial, financial and social relations between this country and the countries of Latin America.

Philippines.

We renew our allegiance to the Philippine policy inaugurated by McKinley, approved by Congress and consistently carried out by Roosevelt and Taft. Even in this short time it has enormously improved the material and social conditions of the islands, given the Philippine people a constantly increasing participation in their government and, if persisted in, will bring still greater benefits to the future.

We accepted the responsibility of the islands as a duty to civilization and the Filipino people. To leave with our task half done would break our pledges, injure our prestige among nations and imperil what has already been accomplished.

We condemn the Democratic administration for its attempt to abandon the Philippines, which was prevented only by the vigorous opposition of Republican members of Congress, aided by a few patriotic Democrats.

Right of Expatriation.

We reiterate the unqualified approval of the action taken in December, 1911, by the President and Congress to secure with Russia, as with other countries, a treaty that will recognize the absolute right of expatriation and prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens, whether native born or alien, and regardless of race, religion or previous political allegiance. We renew the pledge to observe this principle and to maintain the right of asylum, which is neither to be surrendered nor restricted, and we unite in the cherished hope that the war, which is now desolating the world, may speedily end, with a complete and lasting restoration of brotherhood among the nations of the earth and the assurance of full equal rights, civil and religious, to all men in every land.

Protection of the Country.

In order to maintain our peace and make certain the security of our people within our own borders, the country must have not only adequate but thorough and complete national defenses ready for any emergency. We must have a sufficient and effective regular army and a provision for ample reserves, already drilled and disciplined, who can be called at once to the colors when the hour of danger comes.

We must have a navy so strong and so well proportioned and equipped, so thoroughly ready and prepared, that no enemy can gain command of the sea and effect a landing in force on either our western or our eastern coast. To secure these results we must have a coherent and continuous policy of national defense, which even in these perilous days the Democratic Party has utterly failed to develop, but which we promise to give to the country.

Tariff.

The Republican Party stands now, as always, in the fullest sense for the policy of tariff protection to American industries and American labor and does not regard an anti-dumping provision as an adequate substitute.

Such protection should be reasonable in amount but sufficient to protect adequately American industries and American labor and so adjusted as to prevent undue exactions by monopolies or trusts. It should, moreover, give special attention to securing the industrial independence of the United States as in the case of dyestuffs.

Through wise tariff and industrial legislation, our industries can be so organized that they will become not only a commercial bulwark, but a powerful aid to national defense.

The Underwood tariff act is a complete failure in every respect. Under its administration imports have enormously increased in spite of the fact that intercourse with foreign countries has been largely cut off by reason of the war, while the revenues of which we stand in such dire need have been greatly reduced.

Under the normal conditions which prevailed prior to the war, it was clearly demonstrated that this act deprived the American producer and the American wage earner of that protection which enabled them to meet their foreign competitors, and but for the adventitious conditions created by the war, would long since have paralyzed all forms of American industry and deprived American labor of its just reward.

It has not in the least degree reduced the cost of living, which has constantly advanced from the date of its enactment. The welfare of our people demands its repeal and the substitution of a measure which in peace as well as in war will produce ample revenue and give reasonable protection to all forms of American production in mine, forest, field and factory.

We favor the creation of a tariff commission with complete power to gather and compile information for the use of Congress in all matters relating to the tariff.

Business.

The Republican Party has long believed in the rigid supervision and strict regulation of the transportation and great corporations of the country. It has put its creed into its deeds, and all really effective laws regulating the railroads and the great industrial corporations are the work of Republican Congresses and Presidents. For this policy of regulation and supervision the Democrats, in a stumbling and piecemeal way, are undertaking to involve the Government in business which should be left within the sphere of private enterprise and in direct competition with its own citizens, a policy which is sure to result in waste, great expense to the taxpayer and in an inferior product.

The Republican Party firmly believes that all who violate the laws in regulation of business should be individually punished. But prosecution is very different from persecution, and business success, no matter how honestly attained, is apparently regarded by the Democratic Party as in itself a crime. Such doctrines and beliefs choke enterprise and stifle prosperity. The Republican Party believes in encouraging American business, as it believes in and will seek to advance all American interests.

Rural Credits.

We favor an effective system of rural credits as opposed to the ineffective law proposed by the present Democratic administration.

Rural Free Delivery.

We favor the extension of the rural free delivery system and condemn the Democratic administration for curtailing and crippling it.

Merchant Marine.

In view of the policies adopted by all the maritime nations to encourage their shipping interests, and in order to enable us to compete with them for the ocean-carrying trade, we favor the payment to ships engaged in the foreign trade of liberal compensation for services actually rendered in carrying the mails, and such further legislation as will build up an adequate American merchant marine and give us ships which may be requisitioned by the Government in time of national emergency.

We are utterly opposed to the Government ownership of vessels as proposed by the Democratic Party, because Government-owned ships, while effectively preventing the development of the American merchant marine by private capital, will be entirely unable to provide for the vast volume of American freights and will leave us more helpless than ever in the hard grip of foreign syndicates.

Railroads.

Interstate and intrastate transportation have become so interwoven that the attempt to apply two and often several sets of laws to its regulation has produced conflicts of authority, embarrassment in operation and inconvenience and expense to the public.

The entire transportation system of the country has become essentially national. We therefore, favor such action by legislation or, if necessary, through an amendment to the Constitution of the United States as will result in placing it under complete Federal control.

Economy and a National Budget.

The increasing cost of the National Government and the need for the greatest economy of its resources in order to meet the growing demands of the people for Government service call for the severest condemnation of the wasteful appropriations of this Democratic administration, of its shameless raids on the treasury, and of its opposition to and rejection of President Taft's oft-repeated proposals and earnest efforts to secure economy and efficiency through the establishment of a simple businesslike budget system, to which we pledge our support and which we hold to be necessary to effect any real reform in the administration of national finances.

Conservation.

We believe in a careful husbandry of all the natural resources of the nation—a husbandry which means development without waste; use without abuse.

Civil Service Reforms.

The Civil Service law has always been sustained by the Republican Party, and we renew our repeated declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended wherever practicable. The Democratic Party has created since March 4, 1913, 30,000 offices outside of the Civil Service law, at an annual cost of $44,000,000 to the taxpayers of the country.

We condemn the gross abuse and the misuse of the law by the present Democratic administration and pledge ourselves to a reorganization of this service along lines of efficiency and economy.

Territorial Officials.

Reaffirming the attitude long maintained by the Republican Party, we hold that officials appointed to administer the government of any Territory should be bona fide residents of the Territory in which their duties are to be performed.

Labor Laws.

We pledge the Republican Party to the faithful enforcement of all Federal laws passed for the protection of labor. We favor vocational education; the enactment and rigid enforcement of a Federal child-labor law; the enactment of a generous and comprehensive workman's compensation law, within the commerce power of Congress, and an accident compensation law covering all Government employees. We favor the collection and collation, under the direction of the Department of Labor, of complete data relating to industrial hazards for the information of Congress, to the end that such legislation may be adopted as may be calculated to secure the safety, conservation and protection of labor from the dangers incident to industry and transportation.

Suffrage.

The Republican Party, reaffirming its faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people, as a measure of justice to one-half the adult people of the country; favors the extension of the suffrage to women; but recognizes the right of each State to settle this question for itself.

Such are our principles, such are our purposes and policies. We close as we began. The times are dangerous and the future is fraught with perils. The great issues of the day have been confused by words and phrases. The American spirit, which made the country and saved the Union, has been forgotten by those charged with the responsibility of power. We appeal to all Americans, whether naturalized or native born, to prove to the world that we are Americans in thought and in deed, with one loyalty, one hope, one aspiration. We call on all Americans to be true to the spirit of America, to the great traditions of their common country and, above all things, to keep the faith.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS AND PARTY ORGANIZATIONS.

First presidential election occurred Jan. 7, 1789. The 1st Wed. of Feb. following the electors made choice for Pres. and Vice-Pres., and their votes were counted April 6.

Three States of the 13 did not vote, viz.: N. Y., which had not passed an electoral law, and North Carolina and Rhode Island, which had not ratified the Constitution.

Jefferson and Burr received an equal number of electoral votes; there being no choice, the House of Representatives proceeded to choose a Pres. in the manner prescribed at that time by Constitution. (Art. II, Sec. 2) On the 36th ballot the votes of N. Y., N. J., Penn., Virginia, No. Carolina, Georgia, Tenn., Ky., Vt. and Md. (10 States) were cast for Thos. Jefferson; the votes of N. H., Mass., Conn. and R. I. (4 States) for Aaron Burr, and So. Carolina and Del. (2 States), blank. Thos. Jefferson having received votes of a majority of the States was thereby elected Pres. and Aaron Burr, Vice-Pres. of U. S. for term beginning March 4, 1801.

Maine formed part of Mass. On admission to Union was declared (by act of Congress Apr. 7, 1820) entitled to 7 Representatives, to be taken from Mass.

An elector (ex-Gov. and ex-U. S. Senator Wm. Plumer) of N. H. cast only vote against James Monroe out of disapproval of his 1st term of service, and not, as generally accredited, to prevent him from sharing with Washington honor of a unanimous election. He said: "There is not one act of my official life on which I reflect with more satisfaction than that of withholding from him (Monroe) my vote as an elector. In politics I am not bound by the shackles of party, nor in religion by the chains of sectarianism."

In this year there were no recognized parties; the presidential election became a personal contest, Jackson, Adams, Crawford and Henry Clay were the candidates. On Feb. 9, 1825, the two Houses assembled and proceeded to the counting of the votes for Pres. and Vice-Pres. It was found that John Cadwell Calhoun had received a majority of the whole number of votes for Vice-Pres. and was, therefore, declared to have been elected Vice-Pres. of U. S. for term beginning March 4, 1825. No candidate for the Presidency having received a majority the Senators withdrew; House of Representatives then proceeded to choice of a Pres. from the 3 highest. On 1st ballot John Quincy Adams was chosen, receiving votes of Maine, N. H., Mass., R. I., Conn., Vt., N. Y., Md., Ohio, Ky., Ill., Mo. and La. (13 States); Andrew Jackson received votes of N. J., Penn., So. Carolina, Tenn., Ala., Miss. and Ind. (7 States); those for Wm. Harrison Crawford were Del., Va., No. Carolina and Ga. (4 States). The Speaker declared Adams to have been elected Pres. of U. S. and notice of the result was sent to Senate.

Eleven seceding States, within the belligerent territory, did not vote. A joint resolution, approved Feb. 8, 1825, declared that they were not entitled to representation in Electoral College.

Three seceding States were disfranchised because they had not complied with the conditions of Congress for readmission. A joint resolution, approved July 30, 1828, excl. from Electoral College votes of States which shall not have been reorganized.

All the States were represented in the Electoral College, May 23, 1872.

Seventeen votes, rejected by Congress, viz.: 6 from Ark., because seal of State was not affixed; 8 from La., on account of 2 returns having been received, and 3 from Ga. for Horace Greeley, who died Nov. 29, 1872, before votes were cast.

A dispute having arisen over electoral votes from Fla., La., Oregon and So. Carolina, they were by Congress referred to "Electoral Commission" for decision as to their validity, which decided votes to be Republican. The Pres. of Senate then declared that R. B. Hayes of Ohio, having received a majority of whole number of electoral votes, is duly elected Pres. and W.A. Wheeler, of N. Y., Vice-Pres. of U. S. for 4 years, commencing on 4th day of March 1877. The 1st count on part of Congress, regulated by general law, in history of Govt. under the Constitution.

Absentees, and vacancies caused by death, in Electoral College, viz.: 1789, Md., 1; Va., 2; 1793, Md., 2; Vt., 1. 1808, Ky., 1. 1812, Ohio, 1. 1813, Del., 1; Md., 3. 1820, 1 elector in each of States of Miss., Penn. and Tenn. died between appointment and meeting of the electors. 1833, Md., 2. 1864, Nev. chose 2 electors, 1 died before election.

Presidential Succession.

Upon the death of the Pres., the Vice-Pres. succeeds to office. (Constn., Art. II, Sec. 5.)

Record of succession, Harrison, by John Tyler, April 4, 1841; Taylor, by Millard Fillmore, July 9, 1850; Lincoln, by Andrew Johnson, April 15, 1865; Garfield, by Chester A. Arthur, Sept. 19, 1881; McKinley, by Theodore Roosevelt, Sept. 14, 1901.

Succession: In case of removal, death, resignation, or inability both of Pres. and Vice-Pres.: Sec. of State, Sec. of Treas., Sec. of War, Atty. Gen., Postm. Gen., Sec. of Navy, Sec. of Interior. (Act of Jan. 19, 1886, 24 Stat., 1.)

Dept. of Agriculture and Dept. of Commerce and Labor were organized after passage of presidential succession act.

Choosing of Electors—Counting Votes.

The Pres. and Vice-Pres. of U. S. are chosen by officials (in each State) termed "electors," who are, under existing State laws, chosen by the qualified voters thereof by ballot on a general State ticket on 1st Tu. next succeeding 1st Mon. in Nov. in every 4th year, preceding year in which presidential term expires.

The electors equal whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the State may be entitled in Congress. (Const., Art. II, Sec. 1.)

The governors of States are required to send certificate as to ascertainment of electors to Sec. of State of U. S., who publishes in such newspaper as he shall designate such certificate in full; and at 1st meeting of Congress thereafter he transmits to the 2 Houses of Congress copies of each and every such certificate received theretofore at the State Dept. (Act of Congress, Feb. 3, 1887.)

The electors of each State meet on 3d Mon. in Jan. next following appointment, at such place as the State Legislature may direct, and cast their votes.

The electors sign 2 certificates of all votes given by them, each of which certificates must contain 2 distinct lists, one of the votes for Pres., the other for Vice-Pres.; 1 list to be sealed and sent forthwith to Pres. of U. S. Senate, at the seat of Government, 1 by mail and 1 by messenger, accompanied by a certificate (triplicate) duly executed by governor of respective State, which shall set forth names of electors and no. and div. of votes cast. (Const. Amend. XII, and Act of Congress, Feb. 3, 1887; also Const., Art. II, Sec. 3.)

Congress shall be in session on 3d Wed. in Feb., succeeding every meeting of electors. The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet in Hall of House at 1 o'clock p.m. on that day and the Pres. of Senate shall be their presiding officer. That at such joint meeting of the 2 Houses seats shall be provided as follows: For Pres. of Senate, the Speaker's chair; for the Speaker, immediately upon left; the Senators in body of Hall upon right of the presiding officer; for Representatives, in the body of Hall not provided for Senators; for tellers, Sec. of Senate and Clerk of House of Representatives, at Clerk's desk; for other officers of 2 Houses, in front of Clerk's desk and upon each side of Speaker's platform. Such joint meeting shall not be dissolved until count of electoral votes shall be completed and result declared. Two tellers shall be previously appointed on part of Senate and 2 on part of House, to whom shall be handed, as they are opened by Pres. of Senate, all certificates and papers purporting to be certificates of electoral votes, which certificates and papers shall be opened and acted upon in alphabetical order of States; and said tellers, having then read the same in presence of 2 Houses, shall make a list of votes as they shall appear from said certificates; and votes having been ascertained and counted, result of same shall be delivered to Pres. of Senate, who shall thereupon announce state of vote, which announcement shall be deemed a sufficient declaration of persons, if any, elected Pres. and Vice-Pres. of U. S., and together with list of votes, be entered on journals of 2 Houses; and if no person have such majority, then from persons having highest numbers, not exceeding 3 on list of those voted for as Pres. House of Rep. shall choose immediately, by ballot, the Pres. But in choosing Pres. votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having 1 vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a member or members from 2-3ds of States, and a majority of all States shall be necessary to choice. And if no person have a majority of votes for Vice-Pres., then from 2 highest numbers on list the Senate shall choose Vice-Pres.; a quorum for purpose shall consist of 2-3ds of whole number of Senators, and a majority of whole number shall be necessary to a choice. (Act of Congress, Feb. 3, 1887, and Amend. XII, Const. For procedure on objections, incorrect returns, etc., see Secs. 4 to 12 of Act of Feb. 3, 1887, and Const. Amend. XII.)

Before the 12th amend. to the Const. was declared in force (Sept. 25, 1804), each elector voted (under original clause of Const., Art. II, Sec. 1, Par. 3) for 2 candidates for Pres.; the candidate having greatest number of electoral votes (if a majority of whole) became Pres. and one having next greatest number Vice-Pres.

The acts of Congress executory of electoral system are as follows: The resolve of Congress, Sept. 13, 1788 (Journals of Congress, Vol. 4, 1822 Ed., 806), provided for appointing electors and fixed day they should assemble in their respective States and vote for a Pres.; act of March 1, 1792 (1 Stat., 239), provided for election of Pres. and Vice-Pres. and temporary filling of vacancies; act of March 26, 1800 (2 Stat., 285), supplementary provision for election of Pres. and Vice-Pres. and temporary filling of vacancies; act of Jan. 23, 1845 (5 Stat., 731), estbl. uniform time for electors to vote for Pres. and Vice-Pres.; joint resolution of Feb. 8, 1865 (13 Stat., 567), declaring certain States not entitled to representation in Electoral College; joint resolution of July 20, 1868 (15 Stat., 257), excl. from Electoral College votes of States lately in rebellion which shall not have been re-organized; act of May 23, 1873 (17 Stat., 157), fixes uniform time for holding elections for electors of Pres. and Vice-Pres.; act of Jan. 23, 1877 (19 Stat., 227), created an electoral comm. for counting votes for Pres. and Vice-Pres. for term commencing March 4, 1877; act of Feb. 3, 1887 (24 Stat., 573), fixes day for meeting of electors, and provides for counting of votes for Pres. and Vice-Pres., and the decision of questions arising thereon; supplementary act of Oct. 19, 1888 (25 Stat., 613), provides for sending special mess. for any certifi. of electoral votes not duly received.

LINCOLN MEMORIAL HALL.

On Sept. 4, 1916, the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born and the farm of 110 acres at Hodgenville, Ky., were accepted as a natl. memorial by Pres. Wilson on behalf of the U. S. The memorial is a gift of the Lincoln Farm Assn., which gathered approximately $323,000 for the purchase of the cabin and farm and the erection of Memorial Hall, inside of which stands the cabin, erected by Thomas Lincoln in 1804. To accompany the title to the farm and cabin is an endowment fund of $50,000 for the maintenance of the grounds and the Memorial Hall. More than 270,000 persons contributed to the construction of Memorial Hall. Officers of the Lincoln Farm Assn. were: J. W. Folk, Pres.; Robt. Collier, Vice-Pres. and Chn. of Executive Comm.; C. H. Mackay, Treas., and R. L. Jones, Sec.

Over the entrance to the building is the following inscription: "Here over the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born, destined to preserve the Union and free the slave, a grateful people have dedicated this memorial to unity, peace and brotherhood among these States."

THE WORLD WAR.

The year 1916 saw the ending of the second 12 months of the great World War that began July 28, 1914, and the beginning of the 3d year. In spite of all that had gone before, the events of 1916 eclipsed the past in every field, while the war itself grew in magnitude and intensity. Behind the tremendous military operations were the larger political aspects, and here, too, the changes were momentous. Crowded to the past year has been with events, however, the conflict has undergone no change that had an important bearing upon the issues or forces as they existed in preceding years of the struggle, as cited in the 1915 and 1916 Eagle Almanacs. Both groups of belligerents remained intact, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey comprising the Central League, and Gt. Britain, France, Russia, Belgium, Serbia, Japan, Italy and Montenegro representing the Entente Allies. To the latter group have been added during the year Rumania, which declared war on Austria-Hungary on Aug. 27; Portugal, which entered the war on the side of the Allies when Germany declared war against her on March 9, following the seizure by Portugal of German ships, and the Venizelist faction of the Greek people in Macedonia. Italy also declared war against Germany on Aug. 27.

The Western Front.

Two of the greatest military operations in history took place on the western front during 1916. They are known as the battles of Verdun and the Somme. The German attack on Verdun began on Feb. 21.

They began deliberately, with the greatest concentration of artillery the world—until then—had ever seen, to gnaw their way down along the Meuse, biting away the roots of the French position until, they hoped, the entire salient must collapse. In 4 days they pushed nearly as many miles straight into the French lines, and on the 6th day, Feb. 26, the Brandenburgers stormed Fort Douaumont.

Douaumont itself had been dismantled and was a mere heap of concrete rubble, but it was the outer corner of the Verdun fortifications and crowned the highest hill in the region, commanding all the lines around. So far there is no reason to doubt the German claim that their campaign had worked out exactly according to schedule.

At this point, however, matters began to go less satisfactorily. The French on the west bank of the river, still holding positions opposite the lost ground on the right bank, were able to search every foot of that ground with a flanking fire. Gen. Joffre had rushed reserves both of men and guns to the threatened area, and the French resistance, heroic as it had been, was hourly becoming more resourceful, more powerful and more stubborn.

The full history of the Verdun campaign is too long to be told here—how the Germans early in March, shifted their attack to the west bank and in a series of the bloodiest assaults in history drove the French line back until it was level with that on the east bank; how Maj. Raynal held Fort Vaux with a handful of men until June 7; how the Thiaumont Work was taken and retaken some 5 times in 4 days.

The struggle reached its most dramatic climax in the middle of July, when, after taking Thiaumont Work, Damloup Redoubt, Fleury and other positions the Germans were forced to shift large forces to defend lines on the Somme. Since that time the Germans have not seriously threatened Verdun, and by two notable strokes, on Oct. 24 and Dec. 15, the French recovered 4 miles of territory on a 7-mile front, including Forts Douaumont and Vaux, regaining all the permanent defenses of Verdun and capturing approximately 25,000 prisoners. All casualty est. are purely speculative, but it is claimed the Germans lost over half a million men, the French from 200,000 to 300,000 at Verdun.

Battle of the Somme.

The Verdun battle was at its height when the Allied war conference, with Premier Briand of France in the chair, met at Paris on March 27. Much preliminary work, of course, had been necessary before this conference could meet, and the Entente Allies, even before this time, had succeeded in co-ordinating their campaign, but from this meeting dates the co-ordination of the Allied campaigns on the eastern and western fronts. Early in June Gen. Brusiloff began the great Russian offensive on southern end of the eastern line, and it was in full swing when on July 1 the British and French began their part in what has become known as "the battle of Europe," with a tremendous attack on both banks of the River Somme in Picardy. After a terrific artillery bombardment over a 66-mile front, the British and French delivered concerted attacks on a front of about 24 miles, from Gommecourt to the north of Chaunoy.

The initial infantry attacks carried the Anglo-French forces well forward into the strong German positions. Mamets and Montauban were taken and the village of Fricourt almost surrounded by the British, while the French took the villages of Domperle, Becquincourt and Fay in the 1st rush. The next day the French took Frise, Herbécourt and reached Assevillers; the British meanwhile had taken Fricourt, had taken, lost and retaken La Boisselle and had partially occupied Ovillers. North of the Ancre, however, the British had lost much of the ground taken in the 1st drive and had been stopped short before Thiepval, Beaumont-Hamel and Serre. For a week or more the French and British continued to advance, but it soon became necessary before every infantry attack to prepare the way by artillery, and after very costly experiences this method was consistently followed. As a consequence the battle of the Somme soon settled down into the same kind of struggle as had taken place at Verdun, a steady, deliberate grind, with unprecedented artillery bombardment being followed by dashes that advanced the Anglo-French lines slowly but consistently, and without loss of ground through counter-attacks. In this way the battle of the Somme continued until autumnal rains turned the whole region into a swamp and made operations impossible. In territory regained from the Germans the Somme fighting netted the Allies more than any previous fighting, approximately 130 sq. miles. The losses given by the belligerents conflict and cannot be ascertained otherwise. The Allies claim the Germans lost 700,000 in dead, wounded and prisoners. The Germans claim the Allies lost an equal number. French figures are not available, but British losses, official, for 5 months on all fronts were 463,697 men and 23,850 officers. Most of these casualties took place on the Somme. Neither Bapaume nor Peronne was reached by the Allies, but Gen. Haig claims the Somme fighting achieved the 3-fold object of relieving pressure at Verdun, preventing the transfer of troops to other fronts and the wearing down of the Germans. The Germans claim the offensive was a costly failure and proved that their line could not be broken.

The Eastern Front.

On June 5 Gen. Brusiloff, commanding the Russian armies in Galicia and Bukovina, opened the Allies' general offensive on all fronts with a tremendous assault along the whole front of the German and Austrian lines opposing him.

In Volhynia, Lutsk was retaken, Dubno a few days later, and through a gap nearly 100 miles wide the Russians were pouring through toward Kovel and Vladimir-Volhynia and along the railroads which were the arteries of the whole Austrian and German front. The desperate resistance of German troops threw in to stem the tide later succeeded in checking the Russian advance here and there, but the only result of these checks was that the advance broke out afresh at another point. In the north, moreover, along the Dvina and the Niemen, the Russians, by attacks which had broken into the German lines at several points, served notice that it would not be safe to denude this portion of the front to meet the peril farther south.

In the extreme south the Russians once more overran all Bukovina, and advancing in South-eastern Galicia, threatened to turn the Austrian flank on the Dniester and force the evacuation of Lemberg and all Eastern Galicia, as far as the San River, while Gen. ~~_____~~ southern wing hammered at the Carpathian passes leading to Hungary, whence the Russians were driven many months previously. The Russian drive continued for 2 months, but there was a slowing down during August, and after Rumania's entrance into the war Russian effort, apparently, was diverted to aid the Rumanians. The net result of the Russian offensive was the taking of 7,000 sq. miles of territory, 400,000 prisoners and the severe shaking of Austrian morale.

The Austro-Italian Front.

While the issue was still hanging in the balance above the blood-stained and battered hills of the Meuse, the Central Powers made an attempt to retain the initiative. Beginning May 15, Austria struck the Italian Trentino line on a front of 30 miles, aiming south at the Po Valley, Venice and the Adriatic. It was the Verdun strategy over again on a wider territory, but with considerably less forces in guns and men. The objective was to draw the Italians back from the Isonzo, and had it succeeded it would not only have reconquered Venetia for Austria but have shortened Austria's defensive line by more than 100 miles. Italy's task was precisely that of France—to hold Austria until Russia was ready to move. She had a simpler task than France, however, for she had only 2 weeks to wait before the Russian offensive relieved pressure on this front. This was followed by an Italian counter-offensive that regained most of the territory lost to the Austrians and the launching of a new Italian drive against Gorizia, which succeeded in taking that stronghold from the Austrians.

Pushing on, after the capture of the city, the Italians pierced strong Austrian intrenchments northeast of San Michele and near the village of San Martino, Aug. 10, and occupied Boschini, 6 miles east of Gorizia. According to an official count more than 12,000 Austrians had been captured thus far in the offensive.

The Italian advance continued over the Carso Plateau unchecked. Sweeping across the Vailone, dividing the Doberdo Plateau from the Carso, the Italians carried two summits and the village of Oppacchiasella, 5 miles southeast of Gorizia. These successes advanced the Italian line beyond the Austrian positions east of Monfalcone and Gorizia. The new wedge they had lodged in the Carso line enabled them to attack the Austrian lines from the flank. Only intermittent fighting has taken place on this front since Nov. 1, when the Italians reported the capture of 4,700 prisoners.

The Rumanian Campaign.

Rumania declared war against Austria-Hungary on Aug. 27, and the next day began an invasion of Transylvania through Red Tower and Predal passes. The Austrians everywhere fell back and the Rumanians, practically unopposed, occupied Orsova, Hermannstadt, Kronstadt and other important places, clearly intent upon a quick and easy conquest of Transylvania. Meanwhile, however, a force of Austrians, Bulgarians, Turks and a few Germans, under Field Marshal Von Mackensen, had been gathered together and struck across the border of Southern Dobrudja, captured the Rumanian town of Tuturkai on the Danube and either captured the whole garrison of Rumanians or drove the troops over the river. This was followed, on Sept. 2, by the capture of Silistria, another town on the Danube, and attack along the Black Sea coast of Dobrudja. Mackensen's success had the immediate effect of halting the Rumanian invasion of Transylvania, since it was necessary to send back troops to stem the invasion of Dobrudja. With the aid of Russians, Mackensen was halted for a time, after approaching to within striking distance of Cernavoda, where the Bucharest-Constanza railroad crosses the Danube. While this check was effective in removing the immediate danger to Bucharest from the south, the Teutons had begun a strong counter move in Transylvania. Gen. Von Falkenhayn, who had but shortly before been succeeded by Gen. Von Hindenburg as Commander-in-Chief of the German General Staff, with a force of Austro-German troops began one of the most brilliantly conceived and executed campaigns of the war. The Rumanians in Transylvania were first checked and then driven back toward the mountain passes, and were confronted by forces that covered the operations of Falkenhayn, who literally knocked at 1 pass after another until he found an opening, through which he poured his army into Rumania. The main defenses of the Rumanians were broken by the Teutons, who 1st entered in the northwest and, moving down the Jiu Valley, captured Craiova, an important railroad junction in Western Rumania. Moving east, the Teutons met with little resistance, while Mackensen, who had finally captured Constanza and Cernavoda, crossed the Danube at several points southeast of Bucharest and began the converging movement that resulted in the occupation of the Rumanian capital on Dec. 6. Ploesti was taken almost simultaneously, and the Rumanian retreat continued until the Rumanians reached the Sereth River line, running from Galatz, on the Danube, to Fokshani, at the foot of the Carpathians, where the Russo-Rumanian forces were preparing to make a stand at end of the year. The Teutonic campaign, which had been even more rapid than that against Serbia, brought them the larger and richest part of Rumania and was attended by tremendous losses by the Rumanians. The Teutons claim the Rumanians and Russians lost in killed, wounded and prisoners, 385,000 men. Teutonic losses have been estimated at over 100,000 men. The Rumanian capital was removed to Jassy, near the Russian border in Moldavia.

Operations in Macedonia.

While the Serbian campaign ended in Nov., 1915, it was not until Jan. 11, 1916, that Austrians captured Mount Lovtchen, the Montenegrin stronghold commanding the Dalmatian port of Cattaro. Cetinje, the capital, was captured next day. After some ineffectual peace negotiations, King Nicholas fled the country and all of Montenegro, as well as Serbia, and most of Albania, passed into the hands of the Central Powers. Italians held the Albanian port of Avlona. The other Entente forces, many having been transferred from Gallipoli, were based upon Saloniki, where they were joined in April by remnants of the Serbian army, that had been regrouped and refitted on the island of Corfu, and contingents of Italians and Russians. There was little activity in this section until the beginning of July, when there were artillery duels and a consolidation of Allied positions. With the entrance of Rumania into the war, the Allied forces began to attack at different points on the line, while the Bulgarians occupied more Greek towns in Macedonia. There was no general advance, but there was almost continuous fighting, the Serbians especially pushing forward in the direction of Monastir. By Oct. the Entente Allies had regained 90 sq. miles of Serbian territory, and after a spirited campaign Monastir was recaptured on Nov. 1, together with additional territory north and northeast of the town, bringing total of Serbian territory regained to 110 sq. miles. There was not, however, the expected general offensive in this region, due to the situation that existed in Greece.

Complications in Greece.

There has been endless turmoil in Greece ever since the entrance of Bulgaria into the war on the side of the Teutons. Bulgaria 1st struck at Serbia, and King Constantine repudiated the treaty with Serbia whereby Greece was to aid that country in case of attack. The then Premier, M. Venizelos, standing by the treaty, and it was on his invitation that the Entente forces were landed at Saloniki in Oct. 1915. This clash led to the resignation of Venizelos and the abrogation of const. govt. by King Constantine. One Cabinet followed another in quick succession, but Constantine remained in supreme power. In June the Allies took over the govt. of Saloniki. In Nov. they demanded the demobilization of the Greek army, and this was followed by various demands aimed at removing the threat to the Allied forces by Constantine's adherents. In Sept. M. Venizelos, accompanied by Admiral Condouriotis and other Nationalist leaders, left Athens and proceeded to Saloniki, where a provisional govt. was set up for the purpose of aiding the Allies and fighting the Bulgarians, who had further encroached on Greek territory in Macedonia. Kavala had been surrendered, a number of other towns and forts and a part of the 1st Greek Army Corps had been taken to Germany for its "protection." On Oct. 10 the Allies demanded the surrender of the Greek fleet, and on Nov. 24 Admiral du Fournet demanded that 10 mountain batteries and ammunition be given up. Upon the refusal of King Constantine to respond to this later demand, a force of marines from the Allied fleet was landed in Athens on Dec. 1, where they were fired upon by Greek loyalists, many being killed. It is charged, from ambush. This was followed by the replacing of Admiral du Fournet by Admiral Gaucher as commander of the Allied fleet in Greek waters, and a new demand for the withdrawal of Greek troops from Thessaly and the release of imprisoned Venizelists. To enforce these demands an embargo was declared against Greece, and the year closed with the situation in a very critical stage, although the Allied policy toward Constantine had noticeably stiffened during Dec. and Lloyd George announced that adequate measures had been taken to protect the Allied forces at Saloniki.

Events in Asia Minor.

The first campaign of the new year—actually beginning in the closing days of 1915—was a Russian assault on the Austrian lines in Galicia and Bukovina. This offensive persisted for about 2 weeks. The Russians also began the 2d and even more important 1916 campaign in the Caucasus. On Jan. 19 the Grand Duke Nicholas, after months of preparation in which he had been extending his lines southward through Persia, compelling the Turks also to extend, and consequently to weaken their lines to avoid being outflanked, moved forward on his centre, broke through the Turkish lines on a wide front, threw the disordered remnants of the Turkish army back 50 miles, and on Feb. 17, after a steadily victorious campaign, stormed and captured the great Turkish fortress of Erzerum, the bulwark of all Armenia.

The Grand Duke then busied himself with consolidating his lines and preparing for another advance to the westward, which appears to have begun in late July with the capture of Erzincan, 100 miles west of Erzerum. The impetus of his last attack gave him the seaport of Trebizond, on April 17, and most of Armenia as far as the Taurus Mountains, although an attempt on Bagdad from Persia, in the late spring, was a failure. The capture of Erzincan meant that nearly all of Armenia had been taken from the Turks.

The Surrender of Townshend.

At the beginning of the 2d year of the war Gen. Townshend was pushing up the Tigris toward Bagdad. It was reported that he had only, at most, 20,000 men, insufficient transport facilities and medical arrangements that have been denounced in Parliament. In spite of this, on Nov. 22, he reached Ctesiphon, 18 miles below Bagdad.

Here, however, he encountered a Turkish army of superior strength, fought and lost a desperate battle and was compelled to retreat 105 miles down the river to Kut-el-Amara, where, on Dec. 5, he was overtaken and eventually besieged, with his rear-guard of 10,000 men, by the Turks. Attempts to storm his fortifications failing, the Turks settled down to starve him out. The British made desperate attempts to relieve him, but in vain, and on April 28 Gen. Townshend and all his army surrendered. The relief army was within 17 miles of him.

Fighting in this section continued, but the Turks eventually made a stand in Armenia, while they pushed the invaders, except the new British forces on the Tigris, back to the Persian border and beyond. In Dec. there was a slight renewal of activity in the direction of Kut-el-Amara.

East of Suez there was spasmodic fighting, in which some 4,000 prisoners and the fortified town of El Arish were taken. An unusual incident of the year was the revolt of the Grand Sherief of Mecca, who overthrew the Turks and established the kingdom of Arabia.

The year 1916 saw the passing of most of Germany's remaining colonial possessions in Africa. Yaunde, in Kamerun, West Africa, was taken on Jan. 1, 1916; on Feb. 17 the complete conquest of Kamerun was announced. In the meanwhile most of German East Africa had been occupied, although the defenders have been fighting desperately. The Portuguese garrisson at Newala was attacked in Nov. by 2,000 Germans and natives and the place was evacuated.

Naval Events of 1916.

By far the most important naval event of the war was the battle of Jutland, fought on May 31, 1916, between the fleets of Gt. Britain and Germany. The engagement was not only the greatest in naval annals in the size and power of the fleets engaged; it was also the 1st time in which modern battleships of the all-big-gun or dreadnought type submitted to the test of a fleet action with ships of their own class.

The battle was fought near the Skagerrak off the west of Jutland (Denmark). The first report issued by Germany, June 2, claimed the victory, but subsequent statements by the British Admiralty declared the German loss was actually as well as relatively the greater and that the English fleet forced the German fleet to its base.

The admitted German losses in the Jutland battle were:

Dreadnought battle cruiser, Lutzow; battleship, Pommern; cruisers, Wiesbaden, Eibing, Frauenlob and Rostock; torpedo craft, 5.

The losses admitted by the British Admiralty were:

Dreadnought battle cruisers, Queen Mary, Indefatigable and Invincible; cruisers, Warrior, Black Prince and Defense; torpedo craft, 8, the Tipperary, Ardent, Fortune, Shark, Sparrow, Hawk, Nestor, Nomad and Turbulent.

The battle was fought in hazy weather in which a ship could not be made out at more than 6 miles distance.

A total of 333 Brit. officers were killed in the Jutland battle, according to a list issued by the Admiralty June 5. This list showed that practically all the officers of the cruisers Queen Mary, Invincible, Indefatigable, Defense and Black Prince, and from the destroyers Tipperary, Turbulent, Fortune, Ardent, Nomad, Nestor and Shark perished. All the officers except one from the cruiser Warrior were saved, and all the officers from the destroyer Sparrow Hawk. On the other ships 23 officers were killed and 22 wounded.

The Germans placed the Brit. loss at 15 ships. The Brit. placed the German loss at 18 ships, 113,435 tons, while Admiral Jellicoe enumerated 21 German vessels as probably lost.

The chief of the German admiralty staff in a report made a week after the battle said the total German loss was 60,720 tons as against 117,750 for the Brit. His statement, however, did not go deeply into detail.

The admitted loss on each side was, Brit., 114,100 tonnage, 5,613 men; German, 60,720 tonnage, 3,966 men.

Other Naval Engagements.

The German auxiliary cruiser Moewe sank 15 merchant ships and sent the British steamer Appam to Norfolk in charge of a prize crew, after which the Moewe returned to Wilhelmshaven. In an engagement between the British auxiliary cruiser Alcantara and the German blockade runner Greif, both vessels went down on Feb. 28. A German squadron, accompanied by Zeppelins and submarines, raided Lowestoft and Yarmouth, Eng., in connection with the landing of Casement in Ireland, on April 25. On Aug. 19, British light cruisers Nottingham and Falmouth were torpedoed and sunk and a German battleship was torpedoed. In a Channel raid, on Oct. 26, British destroyer Flirt, transport Queen and several guard ships were sunk. Other naval losses were:

(Name, nationality, class, cause.)
King Edward, Brit., battleship, mine.
Amiral Charner, French, cruiser, submarine.
Provence, French, transport, submarine.
Maloja, Brit., steamer, mine.
Renaudin, French, destroyer, submarine.

Omitting light craft and merchant ships temporarily used for military purposes, the naval losses up to Dec. 1916, sustained in the war were as follows: The Allies, 115 ships, with a tonnage of 586,705, and the Central Powers, 132 ships, with a tonnage of 387,911. A German summary issued Dec. 15 placed the Allies' loss at 193 ships, with a total of 744,600 tons.

Political Events of the Year.

In practically all of the nations at war momentous political changes took place during 1916. In Gt. Britain there is not only a new Ministry, but a radical departure in govt., for David Lloyd George, the new Prime Minister, was given extraordinary powers. The conduct of the war was entrusted to a small War Council and the Premier personally does not appear in Parliament. Equally revolutionary changes have taken place in France, where Premier Briand reconstructed his govt. along lines similar to those adopted in England. Russia, after sensational developments, the Duma, backed by public sentiment, won notable victories over the govt. and forced many changes, incl. the deposition of Premier Sturmer. In Germany there were fewer changes in personnel, but by the appointment of a Food Dictator and the adoption of "labor conscription," Germany virtually forced her enemies to take more radical steps in organizing their resources. In Austria-Hungary the death of Emperor Francis Joseph had no direct effect upon the war, although political affairs in the Dual Monarchy were in an upheaval following that event.

British Cabinet Changes.

Mr. Asquith resigned as British Prime Minister on Dec. 5. The next day King George asked Mr. Andrew Bonar Law, Unionist leader, to form a new Ministry. Lacking support, Mr. Law declined and Mr. Lloyd George was called. The following is the new govt. as formed by him:

In the British Admiralty, Sir Henry B. Jackson was succeeded by Sir John Jellicoe as First Sea Lord, and Sir David Beatty became Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Fleet on Dec. 27. The tragic death of Lord Kitchener, who went down with the cruiser Hampshire, on June 5, was an event of national importance. On May 25 King George signed the British Compulsory Military Service law. Gt. Britain had to contend with a revolt in Ireland on Apr. 21, 1916, when Sir Roger Casement, a former British consular official and an Irish revolutionist, was caught by the British attempting to land on the Irish coast from a German vessel; 4 days later some 3,000 men of the Sinn Féin, an Irish secret soc. of revolutionary character, in Dublin, seized the postoffice, fortified themselves in some of the principal streets and parks and proclaimed the Irish Republic. In 6 days of desperate fighting, in which much of Dublin was wrecked or burned, the revolt was put down by the British army and navy. It was ruthlessly punished, 15 of the leaders, who had surrendered, being court-martialed and shot, and many others sentenced to life imprisonment. Sir Roger Casement, on June 29, was convicted of high treason and sentenced to death.

French Cabinet Reorganized.

Closely following the ministerial changes in England, Premier Briand reorganized the French Cabinet, concentrating power and responsibility for the prosecution of the war in the hands of a war council of 6.

Gen. Sarrail was placed at the head of the Army of the Orient.

Gen. Joffre was replaced by Gen. Nivelle and made a Marshal of France.

Changes in Other Cabinets.

In Germany, Admiral von Tirpitz, minister of the navy and a strong advocate of unrestricted submarine warfare, was compelled to resign in March and was succeeded by Admiral von Capelle. In May, Clemens Delbrueck, minister of Interior, was succeeded by Dr. Karl Helfferich, the sec. of the imperial treas., who in turn was succeeded by Count von Roedern. In Nov., Gottlieb von Jagow, minister of foreign affairs, resigned and was succeeded by Dr. Alfred Zimmermann.

fred Zimmermann. Prior to that time Lieut. Gen. Adolph Wild von Hohenborn, Prussian minister of war, had been replaced by Lieut. Gen. von Stein. On Aug. 29 Field Marshal von Hindenburg became Chief of the German General Staff, succeeding Gen. von Falkenhayn, who took command in Transylvania. Gen. von Ludendorff was made Chief Quartermaster General.

In Italy, Gen. Zupelli, minister of war, was replaced in April by Gen. Morrone. In June the entire Italian cabinet headed by Premier Salandra resigned and a new coalition cabinet under Paolo Boselli was formed.

In Russia, Alexei Khvostoff, minister of the interior, resigned March 19, his duties being assumed by Premier Sturmer. Gen. Polivanoff, minister of war since removal of Gen. Soukhomlinoff, gave way to Gen. Chouvaieff. In July Sergius Sazonoff, minister of foreign affairs, resigned and the duties of the office were taken over by Premier Sturmer. Later the place was taken by M. Noratoff. At the same time M. Khvostoff was reappointed as minister of the interior. In the latter part of Nov. there was another radical change when Alexander Trepoff, minister of railroads, became premier, but on Jan. 9, '17, he resigned and Prince Golitsine was appointed Premier.

In Greece the Cabinet was changed several times. Japan had a complete change of Cabinet, Count Okuma being succeeded by Field Marshal Count Selki Terauchi.

Count Sturgkh, Austrian Premier, was assassinated on Oct. 21 by a Socialist named Adler. Dr. Ernest Von Koerber headed a new Ministry, which resigned on Dec. 18. Herr Alexander Spitzmueller was asked to form a new Cabinet, but failed. The following Cabinet was organized by Count Clam-Martiniz on Dec. 20: Premier, Count Clam-Martiniz; Min. of Interior, Von Handel; Min. of Commerce, Dr. Urban; Min. of Labor, Von Trnka; Min. of Education, Baron Von Hussarek; Min. of Agriculture, Count Clam-Martiniz; Min. of Natl. Defense, F. Von Gerogi; Min. of Finance, Alexander Spitzmueller; Min. of Justice, Von Schenk; Min. of Rys, Dr. Z. Von Baernreither; Gov. Gen. of Galicia, Michael Bobrznyski. On Dec. 23 Baron Burian was succeeded by Count Czernin Von Chudenitz as Austria-Hungarian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

On Nov. 5 Russian Poland, held by Germany and Austria-Hungary, was declared an independent State with an "hereditary monarch and constitution. Archduke Charles Stephen of Austria, a cousin of the late Emperor Francis Joseph, was made Regent of the new kingdom of Poland, which will depend for its existence upon the outcome of the war.

Dec. 2—Official statistics show that up to Aug. 1916, there had been 1,682,794 prisoners in German prison camps, and 29,397 deaths.

Nov. 15—According to official Brit. returns there are in Brit. prison camps 45,030 German soldiers, and in German prison camps 31,101 Brit. soldiers.

Oct. 6—German scientific calculations place Russia's losses at 1,350,000 men since the summer offensive began, with a total est. of over 6,000,000 since war began.

Oct. 2—Official statistics show that Russia has captured since June, 4, 1916, 400,000 Austrians and 20,000 Germans, who are added to the 750,000 military prisoners already in Russia.

In Nov., 1916, another estimate placed the German losses at 4,000,000, French at 3,000,000, Austrian at 4,000,000, England at 1,100,000 and Russian at 6,000,000, all but the last a minimum. The last is the estimate of the Germans. Expressed in terms of percentage, German casualties represent 6% of the German population, French 7½%, Russian 31-3% and British 2%.

Canadian casualties up to Dec. 31, 1916, totaled 65,250.

War in the Air.

In the course of 1916 numerous raids on England were made by Zeppelin dirigible airships, some of them of a size entitling them to be called super-Zeppelins. As was the case in 1915, the victims were for the most part civilians, while the amount of damage done was comparatively small. Following is a list of some of the more important of these raids, a few of which reached the suburbs of London:

Date, killed, injured—Jan. 3, 1, 6; Jan. 31, 61, 117; March 5, 12, 33; March 19, 9, 21; March 31, 43, 66; Apr. 1, 16, 100; Apr. 2, 10, 11; Aug. 9, 0, 23; Aug. 24, 8, 36; Sept. 3, 2, 13; Sept. 23, 32, 116; Oct. 1, 1, 1; Nov. 28, 1, 9. Total, 202 killed, 562 injured.

38 Zeppelins had been lost up to Sept. 2, 1916.

In the war areas the services of aviators were in great demand throughout 1916 for scouting, artillery directing and raiding purposes.

Among the cities raided by hostile airmen in the course of the year were Karlsruhe, Germany; Bukharest, Rumania; Saloniki, Greece, and Venice, Italy. In most of these cases many civilians were killed and considerable damage to property caused.

Cost of the War.

The belligerents had borrowed approximately $4,000,000,000 at the end of 2 years of war and had spent some $10,000,000,000 more from their own exchequers or from their creations of paper money. The total of $50,000,000,000 compares with the generally accepted estimates of $5,000,000,000 as the cost of the Civil War. 2 years of the World War cost 10 times as much as 4 years of the Civil War.

The debt of Great Britain, France, Russia, Italy, Germany, Austria and Turkey has increased from $27,273,000,000 to $66,633,000,000 in the 2 years. Great Britain, France and Germany have each added more than $14,000,000,000 to the sums they are bound to pay. Great Britain leading with more than $15,000,000,000 of war indebtedness. Neutral nations, constrained to mobilize, have borrowed nearly half a billion.

The daily cost of the war approximates $100,000,000, of which the Allies are spending two-thirds, or $67,000,000, and the Teutons and Turks $33,000,000. This was as reported Aug. 1, 1916.

The high rate of daily expenditure and borrowing has continued since then.

Submarines and Shipping.

German submarine warfare against merchant shipping became increasingly severe during 1916. According to a German Admiralty statement of Dec. 30, 1916, the loss of hostile tonnage through war measures of the Central Powers was 5,636,500. Much of this was due to submarines. During Nov., 1916, 123 merchant vessels of a total tonnage of $14,500, were reported destroyed. In addition 53 neutral merchantmen were sunk during the same period. The losses of merchant vessels reported by months up to Nov., 1916, follow:

(Month, *vessels, neutrals, lives lost.)
Jan., 12, 4, 231. Feb., 16, 3, 115. Mar., 27, 13, 34. Apr., 70, 26, 141. May, 66, 4, 48. June, 61, 7, July, 50, 9. Aug., 126, 35. Sept., 141, 29; Oct., 146, 72. Nov., 123, 53. Totals, 542, 265, 569.

*Some few of these vessels were destroyed by mines and the status of some others was not clearly established.

Submarine Deutschland's Trips.

The undersize merchantman Deutschland, Capt. Koenig in command, surprised America on July 9, 1916, by appearing off Cape Henry and asking for a pilot to Baltimore. She was the first merchant submarine to make a voyage between Bremen and this country and she carried a cargo valued at several million dollars. Capt. Koenig left Baltimore on Aug. 1 and successfully eluded the enemy's cruisers and trawlers trying to trace her.

On a 3d trip the Deutschland left Bremerhaven Oct. 10, carrying a cargo of dyestuffs and other articles variously estimated and put as high as $10,000,000. She made the trip in just 21 days to New London, arriving at that port at 2:30 on the morning of Nov. 1. Capt. Koenig had arranged to leave on his return trip Nov. 17 from New London. On his way out of the harbor at night, convoyed by 2 tugs, the submarine rammed 1 of the tugs, sinking it and causing the death of the captain and entire crew, 5 men in all. That accident compelled the submarine to return to port to have her hull examined. The Deutschland departed on Nov. 21 and despite the unfortunate accident arrived at her home port in practically 19 days.

Meantime the submarine Bremen was reported to have sailed from Bremen. She was a sister ship of the Deutschland, but no definite word ever was received of her, though rumors came from Allied sources to the effect that she had been captured. German authorities eventually conceded the vessel's loss.

On Oct. 7 the German military submarine U-53 appeared at Newport, R. I. and stayed several hours. The next day the U-53 torpedoed 5 vessels, belligerent and neutral, outside of Nantucket. U. S. Navy vessels aided in the rescue of survivors, who were warned and escaped in lifeboats before the ships were sunk. No violation of our neutrality was charged.

THE UNITED STATES AND THE WAR.

(See also page 552, 1916 Eagle Almanac, and Eagle Library No. 189, "The U. S. and the War," issued in 1915.)

The points of contact of the U. S. with the war were scarcely less frequent or unpleasant in the 2d year and a half than in the 1st. Following the sinking of the Lusitania and other vessels with the loss of Amer. lives, Germany, through her Ambassador, Count Von Bernstorff, gave this govt. assurances that the lives and rights of Amer. would be protected in future. In spite of many apparent violations of this pledge, no action was taken by Pres. Wilson until the French steamship Sussex was torpedoed on Mar. 24, 1916, in the English Channel. There were 325 or more passengers on board, including a number of Amer. The Sussex was unarmed but was torpedoed without warning, and about 80 passengers were killed or injured, including citizens of the U. S. After asking for the facts, Pres. Wilson, on Apr. 18, sent a virtual ultimatum to Germany, demanding an immediate abandonment of her illegal submarine policy, threatening the severing of diplomatic relations. The next day Pres. Wilson laid the matter before Congress and for several days the issue was in the balance. Along with the President's note had gone a bare recital of facts relating to the attack upon the Sussex. On May 4 Germany replied, yielding on all essential points and pledging that no merchant vessel "would be sunk without warning and without saving human lives, unless the ship attempted to escape or offer resistance." Reference was made to the U. S.'s efforts to have belligerents recognize international law, and the note closed with the statement that should the U. S. not attain this object, Germany must reserve to itself complete liberty of action. On May 8 this govt. notified Germany of its acceptance of the declaration to abandon the illegal submarine policy, but did not recognize that the pledge rested upon any contingency such as the conduct of any other govt.

Since this exchange of notes several Amer. vessels have been sunk and Amer. have been lost on other vessels. On Nov. 19 the British Admiralty reported that 22 British vessels had been torpedoed without warning. No action had been taken on these cases up to Jan. 1, 1917.

Protest to England.

The cause of complaint of the U. S. against England antedates the 2d year of the war and is founded on the exactions, delays and interference with neutral trade brought about by Great Britain's quasi-blockade of Germany, under her Orders in Council.

The Brit. Govt., following lead of Sweden, made public, on Aug. 24, the entire correspondence with Sweden concerning British seizures of Swedish parcel post with the U. S. and Swedish retaliation in stopping all English parcels in transit to Russia. As a result of the negotiations Sweden released 60,000 parcels to Russia under agreement with the Brit. Govt. to submit the matter to arbitration after the war.

The Blockade.

The joint reply of Great Britain and France to the Amer. protest of Nov. 5, 1915, in regard to restrictions on trade caused by the blockade was made public by the U. S. State Dept. April 25, 1916.

The note maintained that the blockade was a fundamental belligerent right, that it was being conducted in the spirit of international law and with as little inconvenience to neutrals as possible without rendering the blockade ineffective.

Armed Merchantmen Controversy.

For the 1st time since the outbreak of the war a French merchant vessel, the Vulcain, came into N. Y. harbor April 1, 1916, carrying a rapid fire gun for protection against submarines. She was closely followed by a 2d armed merchantman, the Ione. As the French Embassy gave assurance that the guns were for defense only, the vessels were given permission to sail, April 12.

A declaration of principle in regard to arming merchant ships was made April 26 by the U. S. State Dept. upon instructions from Pres. Wilson. In this memorandum, dated Mar. 25, it was declared that a merchant ship armed for offense or merchant ship which carries mandatory instructions from her govt. directing her to adopt offensive measures against the battle vessels of an enemy loses her classification as a peaceful merchant ship and can be sunk without warning. Defensive armament up to 6 in. was allowed.

Mail Seizures.

Without waiving the right it claims to seize intrnl. securities as contraband, the Brit. Govt. decided, Aug. 2, to release a number of such consignments and permit them to be forwarded to their neutral destinations.

An explanatory statement of how Great Britain's examination of mails was being conducted was presented Aug. 14 to Sec. Lansing by the British Embassy. It was preparatory to the more comprehensive reply to Amer. representations being prepared jointly by the London and Paris foreign offices. Figures given in the statement showed the average time for examination of intercepted mail was from 1 to 3 days. The minimum delay to mail between the U. S. and Holland was given as 2 days and the maximum at 7. Danish mails had been delayed from 7 to 10 days when it had been necessary to remove them from a ship; otherwise only 4 days.

The Brit. Govt., Aug. 17, challenged the report that had been spread in this country several times that the Brit. censorship of mails was being used to capture Amer. trade by utilizing trade secrets of neutral firms. In a statement issued by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the Brit. Ambassador, flat denial was made that there was any foundation for such a suspicion.

GERMANY'S PROPOSAL FOR PEACE.

On Dec. 12 the Central Powers made direct proposals to their enemies for peace. Identical notes setting forth the terms upon which Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey are willing to end the war at once were handed to neutral diplomats who are looking after the interests of the Entente Allies.

The proposals were transmitted also to the Vatican. They were, in Germany's belief, appropriate for the establishment of a lasting peace.

In reply to the proffer of Germany and her allies for a peace conference, the Entente Allies, on Dec. 30, in a collective note, declared that they "refuse to consider a proposal which is empty and insincere." The note was handed to the Amer. Ambassador, W. G. Sharp, by Premier Briand, and was made public simultaneously in London and Paris.

The Allied govts. insisted that no peace was possible so long as they have not secured reparation for violated rights and liberties, restitution and guarantees for the future.

President Wilson's Peace Note.

On Dec. 18 Pres. Wilson addressed, through Sec. Lansing, to all the belligerent nations a Preparedness parades were organized in various cities of the U. S. in 1916 in efforts to stimulate interest in the defensive strength of the country. N. Y. City started off with a magnificent demonstration May 13, when more than 140,000 men and women marched through the streets. The example was generally followed throughout the country by cities, large and small. Chicago had 130,214 in line June 3. Principal preparedness parades held from May 13 to July 22 were: New York, N. Y., May 13, 146,139; Boston, Mass., May 27, 40,000; Chicago, Ill., June 3, 130,214; Providence, R. I., June 3, 55,416; St. Louis, Mo., June 3, 50,000; New Orleans, La., June 3, 40,000; Memphis, Tenn., June 3, 35,000; Portland, Ore., June 3, 30,000; Salt Lake City, Utah, June 3, 10,000; Hartford, Conn., June 3, 17,000; Washington, D. The San Francisco parade was marred by the explosion of a bomb placed, presumably by anarchists, at Steuart and Market sts., causing the death of 6 persons and the injury of 50 more. The parades were not of a military character, although the Nat'l. Guard and other soldiers and sailors took part. The vast body of marchers was composed of men and women representing every walk in life and nearly every profession, trade, industry and calling.

DANISH WEST INDIES SALE TREATY.

Negotiations for the sale of the Danish West Indian islands of St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix (Santa Cruz) to the U. S. were concluded by the gov't. authorities in Copenhagen and Washington in summer of 1916. A treaty providing for transfer was drawn up and was signed in N. Y. Aug. 4 by Sec. Robt. Lansing and Constantin Brin, the Danish Minister. The purchase price agreed upon was $25,000,000, the U. S. agreeing in addition to surrender certain rights obtained by discovery in Greenland. The treaty was ratified by the Senate in Washington Sept. 7, less than 6 Senators voting against it. In Denmark, however, unexpected opposition developed. The Folketing, or lower house of the Rigsdag (parliament), voted in favor of the sale provided a plebiscite were held, but the Landsting, or upper house, adopted an order of the day declaring that if sale could not be postponed until after the war it should be settled by a general election. Members of the Left and Conservative parties, for political reasons, opposed the Premier Zehle and the Cabinet. After a long discussion it was decided to submit the whole question to a vote of the people, to be taken Dec. 14. The people then voted in favor of ratifying the sale.

MEXICO.

(See page 556, 1916 Eagle Almanac, and previous vols. for other information on Mexico.)

The murder of 17 Americans near Chihuahua, on Jan. 10, 1916, brought the question of Mexican intervention to the front. The U. S. Govt. acted quickly through Sec. Lansing, who, on Jan. 12, telegraphed a demand on Gen. Carranza for the immediate pursuit, capture and punishment of the bandits. Demands were made in Congress for armed intervention, but Pres. Wilson did not change his Mexican policy, remaining firm against armed intervention. Looting and killing of unoffending citizens continued during Feb. by the Mexican factionists. Data submitted to the Senate by Pres. Wilson in response to the Fall resolution asking for diplomatic and consular reports on Mexican affairs, disclosed that 76 Amer. were killed in Mexico in 1913, 1914 and 1915, as compared with 47 in the 3 years preceding, and that 20 civilian Amer. and 16 soldiers were killed on Amer. soil in 1913, 1914 and 1915.

Border troubles culminated in March, in an unprovoked attack on a U. S. border town by Gen. Villa and a band of desperadoes. With the consent of Gen. Carranza, an expedition into Mexico was undertaken by the U. S. to capture the raiders.

IRISH REBELLION.

Almost coincidental with the sinking of a German steamer bearing arms and ammunition to the rebels, and the capture of Sir Roger Casement, when he landed in Ireland from a German submarine on Apr. 22, 1916, a serious revolt, led by the Sinn Feiners, the ultra-radical Irish organization, broke out in Dublin on Easter Mon., Apr. 24. The trouble started in the center of the city at noon when a body of insurgents seized Stephen's Green, a large park near the Royal Univ.; the postoffice, where the telegraph and telephone wires were cut, and houses in various parts of the town. An Irish republic was proclaimed by the rebels and following members of a provisional govt. were appointed to administer its affairs: Patrick H. Pearse, pres.; Jas. Connolly, commdr.-gen. of republican army; Thos. J. Clarke, Thos. MacDonagh, Edm. Ceannt, Jos. Plunkett and Spane MacDermid.

Troops from Curragh camp and loyal volunteers were hastily summoned and fighting with insurgents began almost immediately. An attack on Dublin Castle was easily repulsed by the small garrison. On Tuesday a gunboat on the River Liffey shelled Liberty Hall, which was hastily evacuated by the rebels. On Tues. night masses of cavalry charged the insurgents at high speed in Backville st. Casualties were numerous on both sides, especially in the ranks of the rebels, and many civilians fell victims to rifle fire.

In other parts of Ireland, chiefly to west and south, risings also occurred; in Galway, Wexford, Ennisecourt, County Meath, Louth and at Athenry, where rebels encamped in the ruined castle. The most serious fighting was in Co. Meath and Louth, and at Galway, where the rebels attacked, and men were landed from the fleet to support the police and military. There were hostile assemblies in other places, but no serious developments. All Ireland was placed under martial law. Maj.-Gen. Sir John Maxwell, formerly commdr.-in-chf. of the British forces in Egypt, arrived from Eng. to take full control of country and large contingents of Brit. troops from Wales followed to re-enforce govt. forces. Severe fighting, great loss of life, devastating fires and destruction of property resulted in Dublin, but on May 1 the "7 days' revolt" ended almost as suddenly and dramatically as it began.

Over 1,000 prisoners were made in Dublin, of whom 489 were sent to Eng. The killed were est. at over 2,000. In the country dist. remnants of the Sinn Feiner "republican army" surrendered unconditionally.

The execution of 15 rebels, resignations of officials and attempts at reconstituting the govt. of Ireland by Premier Asquith and David Lloyd-George followed the overthrow of the short-lived Irish republic.

On May 3 Premier Asquith announced to the House of Commons that after a court-martial P. H. Pearse, T. J. Clarke and Thos. MacDonagh had been shot that morning in the Tower of London; others had been sentenced to penal servitude. He also stated that Sir Roger Casement would be tried with the utmost expedition and that the work of dealing with the trials of the other prisoners would proceed with all possible dispatch.

Total damage to bldgs. in Dublin was est. by chief of fire dept. at £1,000,000 ($5,000,000), and damage to stock at £750,000 ($3,750,000). Altogether 179 bldgs. were destroyed.

The casualties in Dublin were 124 killed, 388 wounded and 9 missing, a total of 521 among his Majesty's troops and the Royal Irish Constabulary. Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons, May 9. The casualties were divided as follows:

Army officers, 17 killed, 46 wounded; other ranks, 86 killed, 311 wounded, 9 missing.

Royal Irish Constabulary, 12 killed, 28 wounded. Dublin metropolitan police, 3 killed, 3 wounded. Royal navy, 1 killed, 2 wounded. Royal Volunteers, 5 killed, 3 wounded.

Closely following the announcement of the execution of 3 leaders of the rebellion, Pearse, MacDonagh and Clarke, on May 3, 4 more Irish rebels were shot on May 4, namely, Jos. Plunkett, one of the 7 signatories of the proclamation; Edw. Daly, Michael O'Hanrahan and Wm. Pearse, a brother of P. H. Pearse. At the same time 15 others sentenced to death had their sentences commuted to 10 years' penal servitude. They were: Thos. Bevan, Thos. Walsh, Finlan Lynch, Michael Mervin, Dennis O'Callaghan, P. E. Sweeney, Patrick McNestry, Peter Clancy, Wm. Tobin, Geo. Irvine, John Doherty, J. J. Walsh, James McLinn, J. J. Reid and John Williams. The sentence of John McGarry, sentenced to death, was commuted to 8 yrs., and 2 others, Francis Fahey and Richd. Davys, were sentenced to 10 yrs. This was the 2d group of rebels to receive prison sentences, the 1st being Edw. W. Duggan, Pierce Beaslaw and Jos. Maginnes, sentenced to 3 yrs. penal servitude May 3.

An official statement issued in Dublin by the military govt., June 25, regarding the prisoners taken in connection with the Irish rebellion placed the no. interned in Eng. at 1,614 men, 5 women; convicted under the Defense of the Realm Act, 160 men, 1 woman; released from Richmond Barracks, Dublin, and Eng., 1,100 men, 71 women. In Dec. 576 interned prisoners were released.

Roger Casement was hanged Aug. 3 in Pentonville jail for high treason.

The proposals of Mr. Lloyd-George, formulated on his own responsibility as a result of his consultations with all the parties, are regarded as the govt. proposals. The proposals were:

1st, to bring the Home Rule Act into immediate operation.

2d, to introduce in Parliament forthwith an amending bill as a strictly war emergency act.

3d, that during the interim the Irish members are to remain in Westminster in their full numbers.

4th, that during the war emergency period the 6 Ulster cos. shall remain under the Imperial Govt.

5th, that immediately after the war an imperial conf. of representatives of all dominions be held to consider future govt. of empire, incl. govt. of Ireland.

6th, that following this conf. and in the interval provided by War Emergency Act, a permanent settling of all great outstanding problems would be proceeded with.

Zoological Assn. and head of the John Burroughs' Nature Club, who acted as judge, pronounced the birdhouse of Master Burton to be perfect. SHAKESPEARE ANNIVERSARY.

In the latter part of April and during May, 1916, the Shakespeare Tercentenary Celebration was celebrated throughout the country by schools, colleges and municipalities. In N. Y. C. the anniversary reached a grand climax with the presentation in the stadium of the College of the City of N. Y. of Percy Mackaye's masque, "Caliban, by the Yellow Sands." This proved an artistic and financial success.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE, REVIEW OF 1916.

By Edgar D. Thornburgh, Financial Editor, Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

The financial year, taken in all respects, was the most extraordinary that the U. S. has ever known. In the stock market there was not the spectacular war stock gambling of 1915, but the volume of business in the closing months of the year exceeded anything recorded since the Spring of 1901. Domestic trade conditions in 1916 were unprecedented. Earnings of most corporations broke all previous records. Foreign trade was almost double that of the record of 1915. Bank clearings, reflecting domestic business, rose steadily until in the fall they were averaging well above $6,000,000,000 a week, as against an avg. of about $4,500,000,000 for 1915 and of less than $3,000,000,000 for 1914. Money in circulation also estbld. a new high record, thanks chiefly to tremendous imports of gold, and on Dec. 1 the per capita figure stood at $41.73, as compared with $38.04 12 months earlier. The chief feature of an unfavorable character was the relatively poor crop position, the production of the 3 principal grain crops—wheat, corn and oats—falling about 1,000,000,000 bu. below the yield of 1915.

Chronology of 1916—Financial Events.

JAN. opened with a "million-share" day, but after that there was dullness and throughout the month the stock market was disappointing. News developments were favorable, however, incl. enormous gains in ry. earnings and record-breaking foreign trade. The steel industry was very active, being outstanding feature of domestic trade situation. The U. S. Steel Corp. reported earnings for last qtr. of 1916 in excess of anything previously shown and common stock was returned to a dividend basis after lapse of a year. Labor, in industrial field, fared well, some substantial incr. being put into effect. R. R. labor, though, began to show signs of discontent and 1st rumblings of the controversy, which came to a head in Oct. with passage of the Adamson law, were heard.

FEB. saw continuation of stock market dullness and prices of securities, as well as those for cotton and grain, declined. Announcement from Berlin that armed merchantmen would be regarded and treated as warships after March 1, and the inauguration of Verdun campaign caused apprehension. An outbreak in Congress against the President's foreign policy added to the unsettlement. Trade conditions were favorable, but a shortage of ry. equipment tended to hamper business.

MARCH—Throughout this month conditions marketwise were irregular. From abroad came reports of German submarine activity and military successes before Verdun, while on Mexican border outlaws under Villa raided Amer. towns. The Fed. Gov. at Washington ordered troops into Mexico. Peace talk was heard about middle of month, but within a few days this gave way to a crisis in Amer.-German relations over sinking of unarmed vessels. The steel trade was still very active, recording some wild price advances. R.R. earnings were also very good, but labor demands were becoming more insistent.

APRIL—Intl. politics dominated situation. The German Gov. disclaimed sinking of some ships and defended sinking of others. Its attitude was displeasing to Washington and Pres. Wilson sent a virtual ultimatum to Berlin. On April 19 the Pres. addressed Congress, laying whole affair before that body. On April 23 Ambassador Gerard conferred with German Emperor. The Mexican situation, meanwhile, had become tense, Carranza demanding withdrawal of Amer. troops on April 12. All this, combined with revolution in Ireland, had a most depressing influence on securities, which were heavy, despite extremely favorable trade conditions.

MAY was a month notable for improvement in security markets, stocks advancing sharply, especially R. R. issues. Less attention was paid to Mexico and Germany conceded certain points to Pres. Wilson. Marines were landed at Santo Domingo, but otherwise political affairs were quiet. Industrial conditions became more active than ever. Gold imports from Canada were resumed, after being discontinued for several months. A British tax of 10% on Amer. securities caused some uneasiness here on theory that heavy foreign selling would be resumed.

JUNE—A clash between Amer. and Mexican troops at Carrizal, in which 2 officers and several men were killed and 23 taken prisoners, brought on a new Mexican crisis. Pres. Wilson ordered mobilization of all State militia at the border. Carranza made new withdrawal demands. On this date stock market again became irregular, but release of Amer. troops by Carranza was reassuring and at end of month conditions were better. Gold imports quickened, $77,000,000 being received at N. Y. and Phila. from Canada. In domestic trade new buying fell off, but was made up by larger foreign demand.

JULY—Stock prices again eased off, notwithstanding favorable advices from industrial points. U. S. Steel reported earnings for 2d qtr. of year in excess of $31,000,000 and declared $1 extra dividend on common shares. Many other cos. also inc. dividends. Exports were at high level. Gold imports also estbld. high record of more than $115,000,000. A French Gov. loan for $100,000,000 was negotiated. Money rates advanced and British Treas. and Bank of Eng. advanced their rates in defense. Grain prices rose sharply on bad crop news. War developments favored the Allies.

AUG.—R. R. troubles became acute, the Brotherhood leaders refusing to agree to mediation or arbitration. R. R. executives and labor leaders were summoned to Washington to confer with Pres. Stock market fluctuated with news, trending lower as crisis approached. Abroad war news again favored Allies. Italy declared war on Germany on 27th and Roumania declared war on Austria on the 28th. Grain markets were greatly upset by Balkan news, wheat declining about 20 cts. after an early advance on poor crop reports. The bad crop news also advanced price of cotton considerably. Domestic trade conditions were again favorable, except for some uncertainty over fear of R. R. strike. The money market was dull and rates were low, although a $250,000,000 collateral loan was arranged for Great Britain.

SEPT.—A boom in stock market started with month, which turned out to be the busiest to that time in almost a decade with only 5-hour session, in which the vol. of business fell under 1,000,000 shares. Prices did not advance as greatly as in the boom of previous Fall, but business was much larger. Trade continued at the same active pace of other months, being benefitted by passage of the so-called "3-hour law," which averted threatened R. R. strike. Gold imports were heavy, being more than $85,000,000 on balance. Foreign financing here included the $50,000,000 City of Paris loan. A feature was the placing by Eng. of an order for 450,000,000 lbs. of copper.

OCT.—The spectacular raid of German submarine U-53, off coast of New England, in which 5 vessels were sunk, caused wildest confusion in stock market, and on Mon., Oct. 9, day after raid, prices broke very badly, losses ranging from 5 to 13 points. After a week of uncertainty, however, it became apparent that no Intl. complications would result, and at end of month prices had advanced considerably, some issues scoring their high records for year. The U. S. Steel 2d qtr. statement, issued on Oct. 23, showed nearly $34,000,000 earned, a new high record. Foreign loans incl. $300,000,000 to Eng. and $100,000,000 to France. Gold imports were above $90,000,000. Hughes ruled favorite in Presidential campaign, but odds narrowed as the month came to a close.

NOV.—This was most eventful month of year. The uncertainty attending Presidential election caused some early hesitancy, but after re-election of Wilson was assured, Wall St. frankly disappointed. Again was manifested optimism. Activity on Stock Exchange was greatest since Spring of 1901, with not a single 5-hour session, in which sales fell below 1,000,000 shares, and on 4 occasions total was above 2,000,000. Many stocks estbld. new high records. U. S. Steel being of number. Rumors of consolidation of leading copper cos. stimulated these shares. Shortly before Dec. 1, however, news became less favorable. Bank reserves fell rapidly and Fed. Reserve Bd. advised against purchase of British and French Treasury bills. Adamson law was attacked by many R.R.s.

AUTOMOBILE RECORDS.

(Allowed and accepted by A. A. A. Contest Board.)

With the running of 150-mile race at Ascot Speedway, Los Angeles, on Thanksgiving Day, the struggle for points in the A. A. A. 1916 championship award standing was terminated. Darío Resta, with a total of 4,100 pts., is undisputed champion of year. The Bosch Magneto Co. awarded a trophy and $2,000 in cash to winning driver and $1,000 and $500 to drivers ranking 2d and 3d in final official standing. The B. F. Goodrich Co. added $10,000 to purse thus created, to be split $5,000, $3,000 and $2,000. Resta therefore came in for $7,000 and a trophy in addition to titular honor.

John Aitken, 3d, with 3,440 pts., and E. V. Rickenbacher, 3d, with 2,910, received $4,000 and $2,500.

BOXING.

No world's boxing championships changed hands during 1916. Jess Willard, now a resident of Chicago, Ill., is heavyweight champion; McCoy of Bkln., N. Y., middleweight titleholder; Freddie Welsh of Pontypridd, Wales, leader in lightweight div.; John Kilbane, Cleveland, O., featherweight champion, while bantamweight title is still claimed by both Kid Williams of Baltimore, Md., and Johnny Ertle of St. Paul, Minn. The welterweight div. was revived after a lapse of several years and Jack Britton, Chicago, Ill., now claims this championship, having won referee's decisions over his closest rivals.

The year 1916 in boxing was featured by the heavyweight battle between Champion Willard and Frank Moran of Pittsburgh, Pa., held in Madison Sq. Garden, N. Y., on March 25. The bout drew a gate of $150,608, the largest ever taken in for a no-decision contest and the 2d largest in history—2d only to the Johnson-

Jeffries bout at Reno, Nev., July 4, 1910. Willard received $47,500, while Moran was awarded $23,750, record purses for no-decision bouts. Willard won the bout on points.

Boxing in N. Y. State is still under control of the State Athletic Commn., no changes having been made in the Frawley Law during 1916. Fred A. Wenck of New Rochelle is ch. of commn., while the other members are Frank Dwyer of Geneva and John Franey of Albany. W. F. Matthewson of Bkln. is sec. The Mhnt. office of the Commn. is at 41 Park Row, N. Y. C.

Jimmy Wilde of Eng. became recognized flyweight champion of world by knocking out Joe DiMeilo, known as Young Zulu Kid, of Bkln., N. Y., America's best flyweight, in 11th round of a bout held at London, Dec. 18, 1916.

AVIATION AND AERONAUTICS.

The record-breaking airplane flight of Ruth Law, Chicago to N. Y., 884 miles, in 8 hrs. 56 min. 35 secs., was a remarkable achievement of 1916. She left Chicago on Nov. 19, at 8:25 A.M. (eastern time), in a Curtiss biplane and made her 1st stop at Hornell, N. Y., at 2:10 P.M., for gasoline, having made 590 miles, breaking the Amer. cross-country and non-stop record. From Hornell, Miss Law proceeded to Governor's Island, arriving there at 9:37:35 A.M., Nov. 20, breaking the world's record for continuous flight for women pilots. (Figures above are based on Miss Law's speedometer.)

Victor Carlstrom, driving a 200 h. p. Curtiss biplane, left Chicago on Nov. 2, '16, at 7:09:30 A.M. (eastern time), and arrived in N. Y. at 4:56:00 A.M., Nov. 4, with total flying time of 8 hrs. 28 min. 30 secs. Because of a leak in a gasoline pipe he was forced to break his flight at Erie, Pa., whence he flew to Hammondsport, N. Y., and from there concluded his journey.

On May 25, '16, Carlstrom, carrying A. R. Hawley, Pres. of the Aero Club of Amer., as a pass., flew from N. Y. to Washington, 227 miles, in 137 min., averaging 1 1/4 miles a min. throughout, or about 78 miles an hr.

KEEP YOUNG

AND ATTRACTIVE

Use a Few Boxes of

Dr. Campbell's Safe Arsenic

Complexion Wafers

they produce a firm glowing skin of wondrous youthful beauty. All pimples, wrinkles, blackheads, sallowness and all facial blemishes disappear in a short time as if by magic. You may have little or no success with other things you have tried—but no matter how skeptical you may be, try Campbell's Wafers, you will not be disappointed. It is remarkable, but true, Campbell's wafers have been universally successful as thousands of users testify. Physicians recognize there is but one way to beautify the skin and complexion, that is by purifying the blood, that is exactly what Campbell's Wafers do—impure blood is the real cause of all skin troubles. 50 cents and $1.00 per box postpaid in plain cover from

The Sign of a Reliable Dealer and the World's Best Gasoline

It means a safe haven for motorists who know the importance of getting gasoline of uniformly high quality. The "Standard gasoline," which careful drivers have always insisted upon, is now known as

SOCONY MOTOR GASOLINE

It's the same gasoline—the best that can be made. SOCONY Motor Gasoline is a clean, straight-distilled product. It is absolutely uniform in quality. It costs no more by the gallon than others—and it costs considerably less by the mile. SOCONY Motor Gasoline is sold wherever you see the RED, WHITE AND BLUE SOCONY sign. Look for it. It's a quality sign in motordom. Use SOCONY POLARINE OIL as a Lubricant—carbon-proof, friction-proof and heat-proof.
